Rain, Snow Ease Dry Conditions In New England

CHICAGO (AP) — Rain and snow eased drought conditions and forest fire hazards in sections of New England today but not much relief was reported in other parts of the dry belt from the Southern Plains to New York State.

Barry May List Plans at Early Date

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says he may announce whether he will seek the Republican presidential nomination sooner than he had planned.

A leading contender for the nomination Goldwater told a news conference Tuesday night that if he seeks the nomination he will campaign vigorously in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary next March 10.

During a brief visit to New Hampshire, the Arizona Republican referred to the Jan. 27 deadline he had set for announcing his intentions and said:

"I think I may make up my mind before that time in fairness to my supporters and the Republican party."

In an aside to supporters he said: "I expect to be back soon."

The occasion for Goldwater's visit was a $10-a-plate fund-raising dinner for a chair in government at New England College in memory of the late Sen. (Continued on Page 2)

Cost of Living Is Unchanged In September

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living remained unchanged in September with fluctuating prices of selected items balancing off, the Labor Department said today.

Food prices fell six-tenths of one per cent from August.

Transportation costs also eased, largely because of gasoline price wars in the Midwest and season-end lower prices for new cars of the 1963 models.

On the other hand, clothing prices were up slightly and there was a 1.9-per cent increase in the cost of such services as auto insurance, medical services, home repairs, laundry and dry cleaning.

The department's price index remained for the second straight month at 107.1. This means that selected items which cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period now cost $10.71.

In detailing the food price drop the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said largely seasonable lower prices of fresh fruits and vegetables more than offset a seasonal egg price increase.

JFK To Attend Benefit Dinner for Philly Mayor

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Kennedy comes to Philadelphia tonight for a $250-a-person reception and a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner to bolster the campaign of Democratic Mayor James H. Tate.

Tate is seeking a full four-year term against Republican James T. McDermott in the general election next Tuesday.

Kennedy's appearance is expected to draw 4,000 at the dinner. It is billed as strictly political. Newsmen have been barred from the reception.

Kennedy is scheduled to arrive at 5 p.m. (EST) and return to Washington after the 9 p.m. dinner.

southeastern New England Tuesday as the storm moved into Nova Scotia. Moderate to heavy snow fell in central and northern Maine, with 13 inches in Greenville and nearly a foot in Houlton and Caribou. Snow flurries fell throughout New England, including Boston. More than 2½ inches of rain doused Nantucket, Mass.

Tuesday's rain belt extended along the Atlantic Coast from South Carolina into New England. Light rain dampened scattered sections in the Great Lakes region and southeastward to the Appalachians, but amounts were too light to break the prolonged dry spell.

Snow flurries flocked the area of Bluefield, straddling the Virginia-West Virginia line.

In New York State, 12 new fires were reported with a total of 59 still burning and a total of 10 in October. Strong winds in some woodland areas increased the fire danger. State forest have been closed and outdoor burning banned since Oct. 13.

But the fresh rains in Rhode Island, up to one inch, resulted in the lifting of restrictions against starting outdoor fires. Maine also lifted a ban on smoking, starting outdoor fires or hunting in wooded areas.

Cool air covered most of the northern and eastern half of the nation today. Freezing temperatures were reported in the northeastern Great Lakes region and the northern Rockies.

Some of the cool air dipped into parts of the Southland, with readings in the upper 30s in northern Georgia and Kentucky.

Circleville's Low of 21 Is State's Coldest

The overnight low of 21 recorded by the Circleville weather observer was the lowest official temperature in the state last night.

It is also the coldest temperature of the month recorded here with the previous low coming on Oct. 13 when the mercury dropped to 30.

The forecast for tonight calls for a low of 30-38 and for scattered frost.

The month of October continues to be the driest on record in central Ohio.

ONLY .12 inches of rainfall have been reported by the local observer while some central Ohio areas have had no measurable precipitation during the month.

The rainfall locally is behind 2.16 inches for the month.

Last year the coldest temperature in October was an 18 degree reading registered on Oct. 26. Rainfall a year ago was ahead nearly one-third of an inch for the month.

Woman Feared Dead After Home Burns

NY Congressman Says Ohio Is Gamblers' Haven

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio has become a haven for illegal gambling, and such operations approached the $5 billion mark last year, a New York congressman claims.

Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., seeking to win support for his national lottery bill—said Tuesday his figures are based on testimony received by the Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark.

Of the $5 billion, Fino said, $500 million lined the pockets of crime syndicate operators and subsidized every known form of crime.

Fino said Ohio has failed to regulate gambling as other states have done.

BEN H. GORDON

RICHARD W. PENN

Two Veterans Vie For Mayor's Post

Regardless of which candidate wins the mayor's race in Tuesday's election, the officeholder's face will be a familiar one at City Hall.

Circleville voters will choose between GOP incumbent Richard W. Penn and Democrat Ben H. Gordon, returning to the local political scene after an absence of one term.

Penn is seeking his second term at the top city post. He was elected to the office in 1961 gaining the nod over Democrat opponent George Curtin.

The present mayor's political career began in 1952 when he was elected to City Council. Prior to his victory in the mayor's race two years ago, he had completed four years as president of Circleville Council.

PENN is a practicing attorney here. He is a graduate of Kenyon College and the Ohio State University College of Law. During World War II he worked as a physicist with the Manhattan District of the U.S. Army, responsible for building the atom bomb.

Born and raised in Pickaway Twp., Penn is active in civic and community affairs. He is a member of the local Kiwanis and Elk lodge. He is married and the father of two girls and a boy. He and his family are members of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Gordon's decision to enter the mayor's race placing his unprecedented record in jeopardy. He has never been defeated for a city office since he started in 1933.

He began his political career, unmatched in the annals of the city's political history, in 1933 when he ran for council-at-large, a post which he held until 1941. He was a successful candidate for mayor in 1941 and remained in office until 1947 when he was elected president of City Council.

In 1957 Gordon was in the mayor's race again and was victorious over Robert Hedges. He held the office until 1961 when he decided "not to run again."

GORDON surprised local political circles early this spring when he took out his petition for the Democratic nomination only a few hours before the filing deadline.

The popular candidate is a Circleville native and has been in the auto parts and appliance business since 1925. He is active in civic and community affairs, a member of the Knights of Pythias and BPO Elks Lodge as well as several masonic bodies. He also serves as director of the Second National Bank.

He and his wife, Edith, reside at 112 Northbridge Road. A son, Larry, is in his final year in the OSU College of Law.

Auto Workers Roused Again

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Violence broke out again today on the picket lines at the strike-bound Molded Fiber Glass Co. and nine strikers were arrested.

City police, aided by sheriff's deputies, rushed to the scene after some of the 200 pickets allegedly attempted to roll over two cars trying to enter the plant. No injuries were reported.

The plant has been plagued by a series of picket line incidents since it was struck 14 days ago in a contract dispute. Seventeen strikers were arrested after earlier trouble.

A spokesman for United Auto Workers Local 1169 said the trouble erupted because management sought to escort non-striking workers into the plant in violation of a recent temporary restraining order.

That order limited the number of pickets at any entrance to three.

The walkout began when 775 production and maintenance workers represented by the union left their jobs after contract negotiations broke down.

The firm makes fiber glass bodies for sports cars and parts for much of the automotive industry. Supervisory personnel have attempted to keep production going since the strike began.

Rural Area Set for Soil Fertility Days

Improved Operation
For Farmers Is Goal;
Program Is Nov. 2-16

The Pickaway County Agronomy Committee has set Soil Fertility Days for Nov. 2 to 16.

This program is to advise farmers of the advantages of soil tests. The use of test results provides more efficient and profitable farm operation.

During Soil Fertility Days, soil sampling will be in full swing.

Soil samples may be taken to local elevators, lime or fertilizer dealers. The samples will then be forwarded to the Soils Testing Laboratory at Ohio State University. It will take about two weeks for the analysis to be returned.

THROUGH the use of soil tests more efficient farm operations may be conducted. Extension Agent George Hamrick says many farmers apply too much fertilizer because they have not actually determined their soil needs. Others are not applying enough for the same reason.

The fall season is ideal for doing soil test work, Hamrick noted. The soil needs can be determined well ahead of planting season, and these fertility needs can be well planned. "Don't Guess—Soil Test" is the project motto.

The 1962 soil test program resulted in a 31 per cent increase of soil samples analyzed. In 1961, records showed, 1,093 soil samples tested. In 1962 this number increased to 1,434 samples.

Report Says Border Fuss Is Settled

BAMAKO, Mali (AP)—President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and Moroccan King Hassan II were reported today to have reached agreement on the basis of a compromise formula settling their border conflict.

The formula was said to have been suggested by Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia. The meeting lasted 45 minutes. There was no immediate indication of progress. But the fact that the leaders met face to face for the first time since fighting broke out raised hope for a compromise settlement.

A Moroccan source said, however, that a luncheon Hassan and Ben Bella had been scheduled to attend with the negotiators was called off. Each delegation was eating by itself, the source said.

Ben Bella and Hassan sat down at a conference table in the Mali presidential palace with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. Since the arrival of Ben Bella and Hassan Tuesday, Selassie and Keita had been working to bring them together.

Selassie reportedly proposed that an international force from African nations patrol a demilitarized zone to be established in the disputed border area in the Sahara Desert.

Algerian sources said this proposal was acceptable to Algeria only if it meant the total withdrawal of all Moroccan forces from territory claimed by Algeria.

Search Abandoned For Missing Tug

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — After nine days of fruitless search in the Atlantic for the missing tug Meitowax, the Coast Guard ended its hunt Tuesday.

The tug disappeared between New York and Charleston, S.C., She was last heard from Oct. 20 when she radioed her position as 50 miles off Norfolk, Va., sailing southward to the area where hurricane Ginny was born off the Carolina coast.

The 105-foot Meitowax carried a crew of four.

Guerrillas Smash Viet Nam Force

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas smashed a crack South Vietnamese task force Tuesday and probably captured the three U.S. Army advisers with the 120-man task force.

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Stragglers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

A second government force of about 200 men, operating only a few thousand yards away, learned of the battle too late to help. U.S. authorities said Communist radio jammers knocked out the channels on all local military radios.

The operation cost the Vietnamese special forces an estimated 20 killed, 30 wounded and 12 missing and presumed captured. Heavy weapons lost included a 60mm mortar. Viet Cong losses were unknown.

The British Foreign Office announced Tuesday that Mrs. Philby, 49, formerly of Seattle, Wash., arrived in Moscow Sept. 26.

Philby, a former foreign office employee and Mideast correspondent for a British newspaper, was identified as the man who tipped British diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean 12 years ago that government authorities suspected them of being spies.

Burgess and Maclean fled to Moscow. Burgess died there in August.

Philby disappeared from Beirut last January.

Two Diplomats Are Released

Russians' Car Yields
Papers, Camera

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — FBI agents have capped seven months of a round-the-clock work with the arrests of an American electronics engineer, cleared to handle top secret material, and a Russian chauffeur on espionage charges.

They were arrested Tuesday night after a rendezvous near an old stone railroad station in Englewood.

Two Russian diplomats serving with the Soviet mission to the United Nations in New York City also were apprehended by the FBI but they were released because of their diplomatic immunity.

Seized in the Russians' car were a brief case that contained information about a secret Air Force contract and a tiny document camera designed to operate from the car's cigarette lighter.

The accused spies, charged early today with "delivering to a foreign government information relating to the national defense of the United States," are John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, and Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City.

Butenko, a bachelor of Russian parentage, is a $14,700-a-year control administrator for the International Electric Corp. of Paramus.

Ivanov, married and father of a 6-year-old daughter, was a chauffeur for AMTORG, a Soviet government-sponsored agency that handles U.S.-Russian trade relations. He came to this country in March 1962.

The two Russian diplomats were Yuri A. Romashin, 38, third secretary of the Soviet U.N. mission and Gleb A. Pavlov, 39, an attaché of the mission.

Ohio GOP Solon Praised by JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio Republican was among four GOP lawmakers lauded by President Kennedy Tuesday for helping win Judiciary Committee approval of the compromise civil rights bill.

Rep. William McCulloch, R-Ohio, along with House Republican leader Charles Halleck of Indiana, were among those cited by the President for setting aside political differences "in the interest of meeting an urgent national crisis."

On a motion for the Judiciary Committee to kill the bill, defeated 19-15, McCulloch cast lot with the majority, as he did when the compromise bill was approved, 20-14. The Union also voted yes as the committee decided, 23-11, to send the compromise bill to the House.

GOP Is Leery of Praise Voiced by Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans kept their fingers crossed today as they received administration praise for helping to launch a strong civil rights bill in Congress.

The Republicans have warned the administration all pledges of support for the compromise measure are off if the Democrats seek to make any political gain out of civil rights at their expense.

At the moment, though, bipartisanship was holding firm and the long bottled-up legislation finally began to move through the House.

Even with President Kennedy, Speaker John W. McCormack and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck behind it, however, the far-reaching compromise bill faces delays and obstacles.

The most optimistic estimate heard Tuesday after the House Judiciary Committee approved the bill by a 23-11 vote was that it would be mid-November before it gets to the House floor.

The time will be needed to write a report on the measure and hold hearings in the Senate-dominated Rules Committee.

Two other provisions would ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants, theaters and other places serving the public, and empower the President to cut off funds for federal programs where discrimination is practiced.

Report Says Border Fuss Is Settled

BAMAKO, Mali (AP)—President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and Moroccan King Hassan II were reported today to have reached agreement on the basis of a compromise formula settling their border conflict.

The formula was said to have been suggested by Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

The meeting lasted 45 minutes. There was no immediate indication of progress. But the fact that the leaders met face to face for the first time since fighting broke out raised hope for a compromise settlement.

A Moroccan source said, however, that a luncheon Hassan and Ben Bella had been scheduled to attend with the negotiators was called off. Each delegation was eating by itself, the source said.

Ben Bella and Hassan sat down at a conference table in the Mali presidential palace with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and President Modibo Keita of Mali. Since the arrival of Ben Bella and Hassan Tuesday, Selassie and Keita had been working to bring them together.

Selassie reportedly proposed that an international force from African nations patrol a demilitarized zone to be established in the disputed border area in the Sahara Desert.

Algerian sources said this proposal was acceptable to Algeria only if it meant the total withdrawal of all Moroccan forces from territory claimed by Algeria.

Guerrillas Smash Viet Nam Force

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas smashed a crack South Vietnamese task force Tuesday and probably captured the three U.S. Army advisers with the 120-man task force.

The three Americans, listed as missing, were two officers and an enlisted medic. Stragglers returning from the rout said both officers had been wounded in the fight.

A second government force of about 200 men, operating only a few thousand yards away, learned of the battle too late to help. U.S. authorities said Communist radio jammers knocked out the channels on all local military radios.

The operation cost the Vietnamese special forces an estimated 20 killed, 30 wounded and 12 missing and presumed captured. Heavy weapons lost included a 60mm mortar. Viet Cong losses were unknown.

"The day ended with the enemy in command of the field," a high-ranking American officer said.

Names of the missing Americans were not announced.

The U.S. casualty list rose to four late Tuesday when the Air Force pilot of a light spotting plane was hit by machine gun fire. The pilot flew back to his base, however.

Tuesday's fight was in the same area 140 miles southwest of Saigon where another government unit took a beating Oct. 19.

All day today, patrols and spotting planes combed the area where the fight took place but made no contact with the guerrillas. Presumably they slipped away in small groups on sampans.

According to an intelligence estimate, the Viet Cong probably had about 500 troops in the area at one time.

The Viet Cong had been advertising for several weeks that it planned a major attack against Tan Phu, the base of the Vietnamese special forces that took part in the fight.

Military officials said about 300 Vietnamese began moving north against a reported Viet Cong concentration Monday night.

At dawn Tuesday the task force charged into the zone, three miles north of Tan Phu where they expected to find the enemy—and found nothing.

Two companies in the force met some enemy fire but kept moving. The ill-fated third company ran into a wall of fire.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The mock war started today for the 15,000 men of the U. S. Army's 2nd Armored Division flown from Texas to Germany during Exercise Big Lift.

The seven-day maneuvers started before dawn with an attack by an "aggressor" force from the 3rd Armored Division. The defending 2nd Armored was deployed in an area stretching from Darmstadt, south of Frankfurt, to Fulda, about 50 miles northeast.

In all 40,000 troops will participate.

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Harold Philby, American wife of the third man in the Burgess and Maclean spy case, has joined her husband in Moscow.

The British Foreign Office announced Tuesday that Mrs. Philby, 49, formerly of Seattle, Wash., arrived in Moscow Sept. 26.

Philby, a former foreign office employee and Mideast correspondent for a British newspaper, was identified as the man who tipped British diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean 12 years ago that government authorities suspected them of being spies.

Burgess and Maclean fled to Moscow. Burgess died there in August.

Philby disappeared from Beirut last January.

Two Diplomats Are Released

Russians' Car Yields
Papers, Camera

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — FBI agents have capped seven months of a round-the-clock work with the arrests of an American electronics engineer, cleared to handle top secret material, and a Russian chauffeur on espionage charges.

They were arrested Tuesday night after a rendezvous near an old stone railroad station in Englewood.

Two Russian diplomats serving with the Soviet mission to the United Nations in New York City also were apprehended by the FBI but they were released because of their diplomatic immunity.

Seized in the Russians' car were a brief case that contained information about a secret Air Force contract and a tiny document camera designed to operate from the car's cigarette lighter.

The accused spies, charged early today with "delivering to a foreign government information relating to the national defense of the United States," are John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, and Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City.

Butenko, a bachelor of Russian parentage, is a $14,700-a-year contract administrator for the International Electric Corp. of Paramus.

Ivanov, married and father of a 6-year-old daughter, was a chauffeur for AMTORG, a Soviet government-sponsored agency that handles U.S.-Russian trade relations. He came to this country in March 1962.

The two Russian diplomats were Yuri A. Romashin, 38, third secretary of the Soviet U.N. mission and Gleb A. Pavlov, 39, an attaché of the mission.

Ohio GOP Solon Praised by JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio Republican was among four GOP lawmakers lauded by President Kennedy Tuesday for helping win Judiciary Committee approval of the compromise civil rights bill.

Rep. William McCulloch, R-Ohio, along with House Republican leader Charles Halleck of Indiana, were among those cited by the President for setting aside political differences "in the interest of meeting an urgent national crisis."

On a motion for the Judiciary Committee to kill the bill, defeated 19-15, McCulloch cast lot with the majority, as he did when the compromise bill was approved, 20-14. The Ohioan also voted yes as the committee decided, 23-11, to send the compromise bill to the House.

GOP Is Leery of Praise Voiced by Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans kept their fingers crossed today as they received administration praise for helping to launch a strong civil rights bill in Congress.

The Republicans have warned the administration all pledges of support for the compromise measure are off if the Democrats seek to make any political gain out of civil rights at their expense.

At the moment, though, bipartisanship was holding firm and the long bottled-up legislation finally began to move through the House.

Even with President Kennedy, Speaker John W. McCormack and Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck behind it, however, the far-reaching compromise bill faces delays and obstacles.

The most optimistic estimate heard Tuesday after the House Judiciary Committee approved the bill by a 23-11 vote was that it would be mid-November before it gets to the House floor.

The time will be needed to write a report on the measure and hold hearings in the Senate-dominated Rules Committee.

Two other provisions would ban racial discrimination in hotels, restaurants, theaters and other places serving the public, and empower the President to cut off funds for federal programs where discrimination is practiced.

Only 11 days ago, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York made a two-day speaking tour of New Hampshire and promised to enter the New Hampshire primary if he decides to seek the GOP nomination.

More than 1,100 dinner guests heard Goldwater warn that an increasing shift in powers in the executive branch of the federal government is threatening the nation's freedom.

Decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court, he said, indicate "it has no disposition whatsoever to support the states or the Congress against the executive."

"Meantime," he added, "the Congress has been inhibited. Men who are elected to represent the people find themselves targets of abuse when they oppose major legislative programs. They are called do-nothing representatives."

Two Diplomats

Tuesday night's cat-and-mouse activity:

FBI agents watched from the shadows as Butenko and the Russians met in the station, parking lot and then strode away. The agents moved in, collaring Butenko in his car and Pavlov and Ivanov in their automobile. Romashin was seized nearby, where he was posted as a lookout.

In the rear seat of the Russians' car was a briefcase that Butenko brought to the meeting, containing data relating to a "highly sensitive Air Force contract being handled by the International Electric Corporation." The document camera also was in the Russian car.

The first meeting of the accused conspirators occurred April 21 according to the FBI complaint, at a restaurant in Norwood, N.J. The first briefcase switch occurred shortly afterward on the side of a road in Closter.

Pavlov, Ivanov and another member of the Soviet mission, Vladimir I. Olenov, had driven to Norwood, the FBI said. Olenov and Ivanov went into the restaurant and Pavlov drove to Closter and waited until Butenko drove by.

Both men then drove to a parking area and Pavlov entered Butenko's car. When he left, he was carrying a light tan attache case that he didn't have earlier.

Pavlov returned to the restaurant and joined the waiting Russians.

Similar meetings, involving an attache case and brown leather briefcase, occurred on May 26 in the vicinity of Closter, on the following day at a parking lot in Fort Lee, and on Sept. 24 between Paramus and Teaneck, the FBI said.

The bespectacled Butenko has worked for International Electric since March 1960.

Dry Spell Won't Hinder Hunters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hunting in Ohio is not banned because of the drought, the Ohio Division of Wildlife reiterated today.

Division officials said they had been getting numerous telephone inquiries about the status of outdoor sports activities.

Director Fred E. Morr of the Department of Natural Resources has designated all outdoorsmen as volunteer fire wardens during the emergency caused by the prolonged drought. Their "cooperation and effectiveness to date have justified this confidence," Morr said.

Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania have banned all hunting. But Michigan and Indiana are following Ohio's stand in the matter except that in Michigan, smoking in the woods has been forbidden.

Pranksters Pile Blocks in Alley

Halloween pranksters piled cement blocks and concrete reinforced rods in the alley between Union and Mill Sts. It was reported to Circleville Police today by Bill Curry.

Curry told the officers the rods were about windshield high and would have presented a driving hazard. The materials belonged to Ronald Culp.

Paint, Brushes Stolen

Charles W. Davis, 422 S. Washington St., reported the theft of two gallons of paint and two new paint brushes from his garage. Entry was gained by forcing a window.

The governor and Development Director George E. Wilson outlined the junket Tuesday night at a meeting with local industrial and civic officials.

They said present plans call for the group to contact more than 200 firms when they visit New York, probably in early November.

Rhodes and his cabinet members were here for another in their series of "road" meetings. They headed for Georgetown and Portsmouth today. They plan to visit Defiance and Van Wert Thursday.

The governor continued to plug for passage of State Issue No. 1 in next Tuesday's election. In his remarks here, he linked the proposal—a $250 million bond issue that includes $175 million for higher education—to tentative plans for 10 technical institutes in the state.

He said there is an increasing need in Ohio for more trained technical workers, and that establishment of two-year institutes in industrial areas would help meet that need. Preliminary plans call for state and municipal universities to operate the facilities.

The governor spoke on the same theme earlier in the day at Columbus, telling a public cabinet meeting there: "One of the really important needs is technical training for those between the high school graduate and the college freshman."

He held out hope that such training would open what he called an untapped source of employment.

Referring to the New York trip, Rhodes said Ohio has 750 potential "customers" as a result of the administration's efforts to attract new plants and expand existing ones. He said that within a couple of days, one firm which will employ about 400 persons will announce plans to locate near Columbus.

Helping the change, he said, are his promises of no new taxes and the administration's program of loans for new and expanding industries.

Dem Official Critical of Bond Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Democratic Party Chairman William L. Coleman has lashed out against the state bond issue and accused the administration of "deliberately pulling the wool over the eyes of Ohio taxpayers."

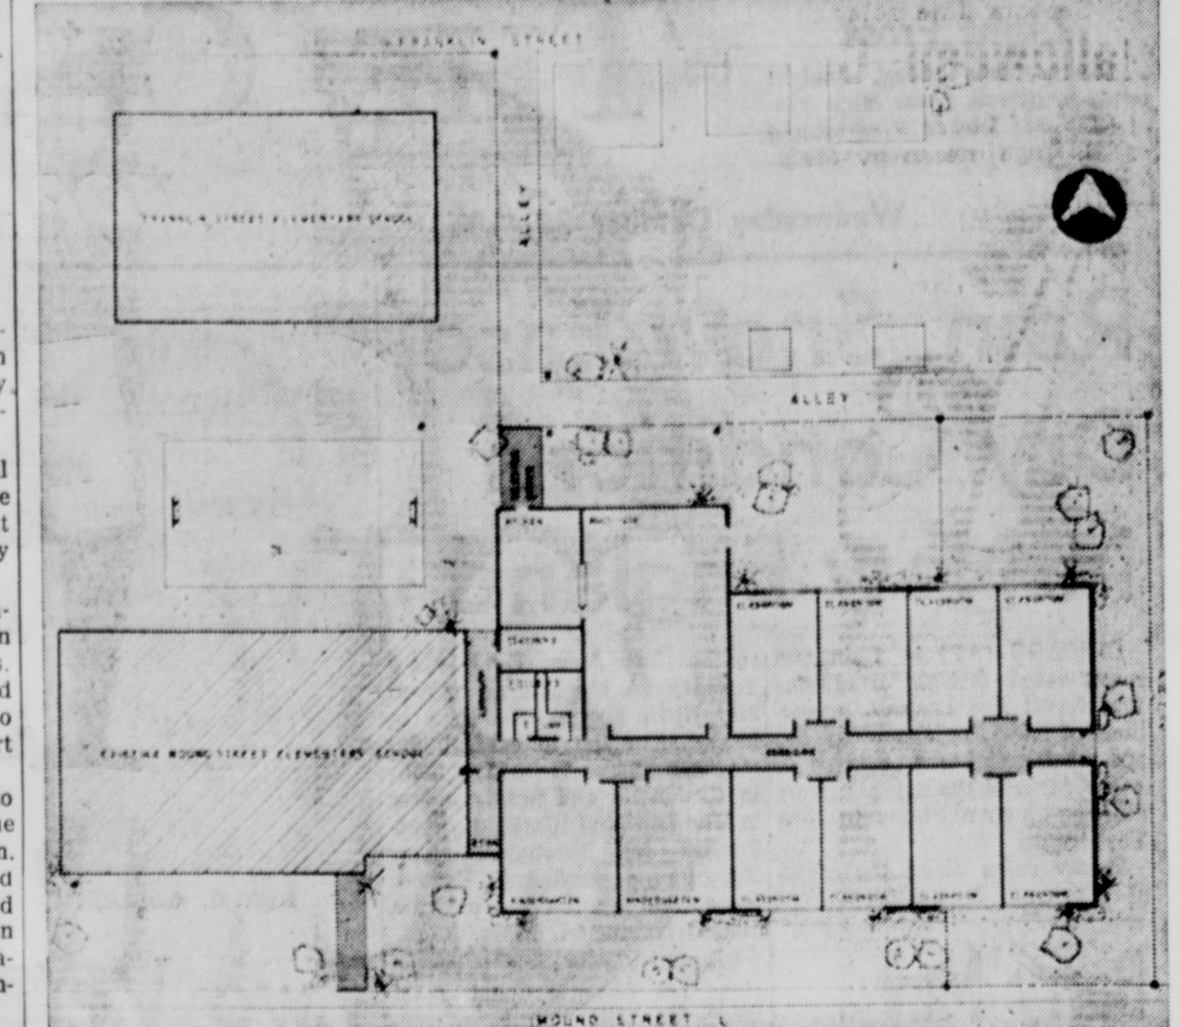

Coleman, in a press release issued Tuesday, predicted that Ohio voters will defeat State Issue No. 1 at the polls Nov. 5.

"The proponents of the $250 million bond issue have made much of the $35 million allocated from it for distressed school districts," Coleman said. "But they are very quiet about the fact that under the present laws the local school districts will have to vote a bond issue to raise a large part of whatever amount they need, plus an additional levy to repay that portion they receive from the state."

"Neither do they mention that the reason many school districts are distressed is that the governor and the legislature passed the buck to the local school districts by appropriating insufficient monies for the school budget and the state is providing less support per pupil than in the last biennium."

"While pretending to be Santa Claus, the state administration will be shuffling the local property owners out of more taxes when they are already overburdened."

He said he felt sure the "Ohio voters would not be so easily duped and would make their disgust at such tactics clear by soundly defeating State Issue No. 1 at the polls Nov. 5."

MOUND STREET SCHOOL — Here is the floor plan of the proposed addition to Mound Street Elementary School. The new addition will be constructed to the east of the present building, providing Circleville voters pass the bond issue at Tuesday's election. Funds from the bonds will also be used to construct a new three-year high school and replace the present High St. Elementary Building.

Council Favors Sharing Of Authority by Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A big majority of the Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today in favor of a declaration that the Roman Catholic Church's bishops as a body share in the Pope's authority.

The vote was intended only as a guide to further council consideration and was not binding. But it was greater than the two-thirds majority needed in any formal ballot to turn such a statement — with its implications for Christian unity efforts — into a council decree.

The council voted 1,808-336 that a theological schema on the nature of the Church should state that "the body or college of bishops in its evangelizing, sanctifying and caring for its flock is the successor of the college of apostles, and that as a body, in union with its head, the Roman pontiff, and never without him, enjoys full and supreme power over the universal Church."

By a vote of 1,717-408, the prelates also approved the insertion into the schema of a statement that "this (episcopal) power belongs to the college, in union with its head, by divine right."

In another test vote a proposal to reconstitute the Church rank of permanent deacon was approved 1,588-525. However, no stand was taken on whether the deacons could be married.

The council approved insertion in the theological scheme "De Ecclesia" the statement that "it is opportune to restore the diaconate as a distinct and permanent rank of the sacred ministry in accordance with (the desires of) various regions."

Each of the propositions was approved by such a large number of prelates that adoption is assured once formal balloting starts. That may not be until the council's next session next year.

The phrasing of today's motion on the diaconate means that national groups of bishops eventually will be allowed to decide whether they want deacons in their areas. Deacons would be allowed to perform certain services, but only priests would be permitted to celebrate Mass and hear confession.

By overwhelming votes, the council approved a document that eventually will allow the use of native music forms for Roman Catholic services in such places as Africa and Asia.

Each of the propositions was approved by such a large

Only 11 days ago, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York made a two-day speaking tour of New Hampshire and promised to enter the New Hampshire primary if he decides to seek the GOP nomination.

More than 1,100 dinner guests heard Goldwater warn that an increasing shift in powers in the executive branch of the federal government is threatening the nation's freedom.

Decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court, he said, indicate "it has no disposition whatsoever to support the states or the Congress against the executive." "Meantime," he added, "the Congress has been inhibited Men who are elected to represent the people find themselves targets of abuse when they oppose major legislative programs. They are called do-nothing representatives."

Two Diplomats

Tuesday night's cat-and-mouse activity:

FBI agents watched from the shadows as Butenko and the Russians met in the station parking lot and then strode away. The agents moved in, collaring Butenko in his car and Pavlov and Ivan in their automobile. Romashin was seized nearby, where he was posted as a lookout.

In the rear seat of the Russians' car was a briefcase that Butenko brought to the meeting, containing data relating to a "highly sensitive Air Force contract being handled by the International Electric Corporation." The document camera also was in the Russian car.

The first meeting of the accused conspirators occurred April 21 according to the FBI complaint, at a restaurant in Norwood, N.J. The first briefcase switch occurred shortly afterward on the side of a road in Closter.

Pavlov, Ivanov and another member of the Soviet mission, Vladimir I. Olenov, had driven to Norwood, the FBI said.

Olenov and Ivanov went into the restaurant and Pavlov drove to Closter and waited until Butenko drove by.

Both men then drove to a parking area and Pavlov entered Butenko's car. When he left, he was carrying a light tan attaché case that he didn't have earlier.

Pavlov returned to the restaurant and joined the waiting Russians.

Similar meetings, involving an attaché case and brown leather briefcase, occurred on May 26 in the vicinity of Closter, on the following day at a parking lot in Fort Lee, and on Sept. 24 between Paramus and Teaneck, the FBI said.

The bespectacled Butenko has worked for International Electric since March 1960.

Dry Spell Won't Hinder Hunters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hunting in Ohio is not banned because of the drought, the Ohio Division of Wildlife reiterated today.

Division officials said they had been getting numerous telephone inquiries about the status of outdoor sports activities.

Director Fred E. Morr of the Department of Natural Resources has designated all outdoors during the emergency caused by the prolonged drought. Their "cooperation and effectiveness to date have justified this confidence," Morr said.

Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania have banned all hunting. But Michigan and Indiana are following Ohio's stand in the matter except that in Michigan, smoking in the woods has been forbidden.

Pranksters Pile Blocks in Alley

Halloween pranksters piled cement blocks and concrete reinforced rods in the alley between Union and Mill Sts. it was reported to Circleville Police today by Bill Curry.

Curry told the officers the rods were about windshield high and would have presented a driving hazard. The materials belonged to Ronald Culp.

Paint, Brushes Stolen

Charles W. Davis, 422 S. Washington St., reported the theft of two gallons of paint and two new paint brushes from his garage. Entry was gained by forcing a window.

The governor and Development Director George E. Wilson outlined the junket Tuesday night at a meeting with local industrial and civic officials.

They said present plans call for the group to contact more than 200 firms when they visit New York, probably in early November.

Rhodes and his cabinet members were here for another in their series of "road" meetings. They headed for Georgetown and Portsmouth today. They plan to visit Defiance and Van Wert Thursday.

The governor continued to plug for passage of State Issue No. 1 in next Tuesday's election. In his remarks here, he linked the proposal—a $250 million bond issue that includes $175 million for higher education—to tentative plans for 10 technical institutes in the state.

He said there is an increasing need in Ohio for more trained technical workers, and that establishment of two-year institutes in industrial areas would help meet that need. Preliminary plans call for state and municipal universities to operate the facilities.

The governor spoke on the same theme earlier in the day at Columbus, telling a public cabinet meeting there: "One of the really important needs is technical training for those between the high school graduate and the college freshman."

He held out hope that such training would open what he called an untapped source of employment.

Referring to the New York trip, Rhodes said Ohio has 750 potential "customers" as a result of the administration's efforts to attract new plants and expand existing ones. He said that within a couple of days, one firm which will employ about 400 persons will announce plans to locate near Columbus.

Helping the change, he said, are his promises of no new taxes and the administration's program of loans for new and expanding industries.

Dem Official Critical of Bond Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Democratic Party Chairman William L. Coleman has lashed out against the state bond issue and accused the administration of "deliberately pulling the wool over the eyes of Ohio taxpayers."

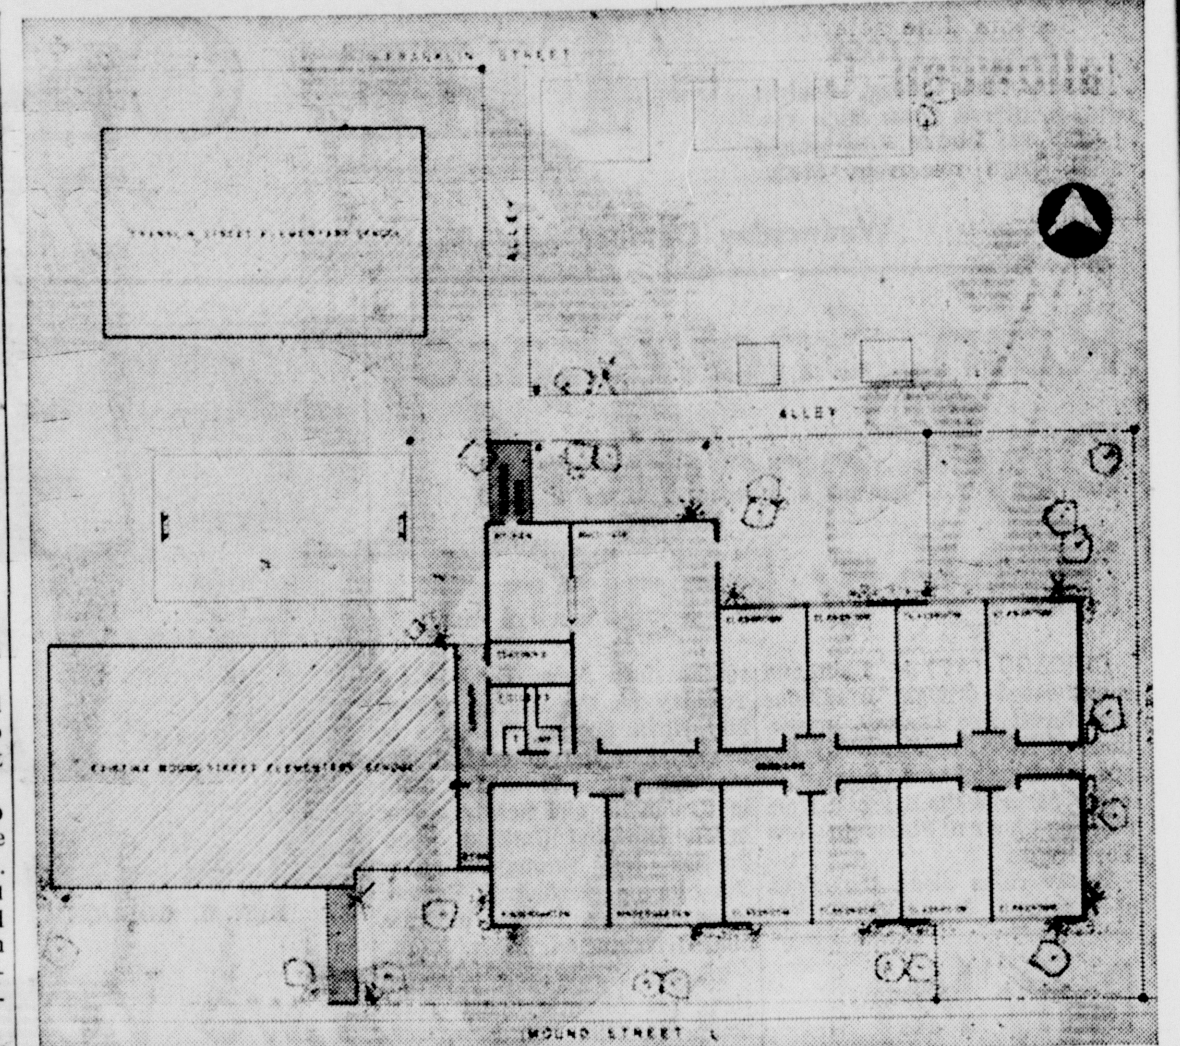

Coleman, in a press release issued Tuesday, predicted that Ohio voters will defeat State Issue No. 1 at the polls Nov. 5.

"The proponents of the $250 million bond issue have made much of the $35 million allocated from it for distressed school districts," Coleman said. "But they are very quiet about the fact that under the present laws the local school districts will have to vote a bond issue to raise a large part of whatever amount they need, plus an additional levy to repay that portion they receive from the state."

"Neither do they mention that the reason many school districts are distressed is that the governor and the legislature passed the buck to the local school districts by appropriating insufficient monies for the school budget and the state is providing less support per pupil than in the last biennium."

"While pretending to be Santa Claus, the state administration will be shuffling the local property owners out of more taxes when they are already overburdened."

He said he felt sure the "Ohio voters would not be so easily duped and would make their disgust at such tactics clear by soundly defeating State Issue No. 1 at the polls Nov. 5."

MOUND STREET SCHOOL — Here is the floor plan of the proposed addition to Mound Street Elementary School. The new addition will be constructed to the east of the present building, providing Circleville voters pass the bond issue at Tuesday's election. Funds from the bonds will also be used to construct a new three-year high school and replace the present High St. Elementary Building.

Council Favors Sharing Of Authority by Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A big majority of the Vatican Ecumenical Council voted today in favor of a declaration that the Roman Catholic Church's bishops as a body share in the Pope's authority.

The vote was intended only as a guide to further council consideration and was not binding. But it was greater than the two-thirds majority needed in any formal ballot to turn such a statement — with its implications for Christian unity efforts — into a council decree.

The council voted 1,808-336 that a theological schema on the nature of the Church should state that "the body or college of bishops in its evangelizing, sanctifying and caring for its flock is the successor of the college of apostles, and that as a body, in union with its head, the Roman pontiff, and never without him, enjoys full and supreme power over the universal Church."

By a vote of 1,717-408, the prelates also approved the insertion into the schema of a statement that "this (episcopal) power belongs to the college, in union with its head, by divine right."

In another test vote a proposal to reconstitute the Church rank of permanent deacon was approved 1,588-525. However, no stand was taken on whether the deacons could be married.</

Biggest Give Away

America's biggest giveaway program isn't foreign aid. It's trick - or - treat. It's been commercialized almost as much as Christmas.

The householder buys cartons of specially wrapped goodies and the mother must provide her child a costume and a specially printed bag in which to carry the loot.

Most of the small fry who ring doorbells with the trick-or-treat bags in hand haven't the slightest idea what trick they would pull if the treat were refused. In fact, some of them don't comprehend the blackmail aspect of the thing at all. All they understand is the 'gimme' part.

They'd have to put down the big bag full of other victims' treats before they could produce a trick - and then some other trickster would probably run off with the bag and nullify the night's profits.

It was not always so. Halloween once was marked by grim pagan rites.

Druid soothsayers of ancient Gaul and Britain recited magic runes in rings of stone, such as the great circle at Stonehenge. The Celts of Scotland and Ireland gathered on windy hilltops around huge fires.

The bonfires probably were lighted to guide the spirits of the dead to their final resting places, or to ward off witches. On this night, witches and goblins supposedly roamed the countryside terrifying the populace.

Belief in witches can be traced to the ancient Egyptians. Masks have been associated with man's dealing with the spirits, both friendly and malevolent, since ancient times.

The pumpkin jack-o'-lantern has a double meaning. It makes a weird and shadow - casting spook, but also it is carved from a symbol of the fruitful harvest, which has been connected with Halloween since the Romans held feasts for Pomona, goddess of the harvest.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The flow of American investment dollars abroad, especially to the Common Market, is slowing down. Once hailed as a good thing both for the American and European economies, such spending of late has become a worry to those seeking to cut U.S. deficits in world dealings.

Washington reports that threats of new taxes are holding down sales of foreign securities to Americans keeping such hot money at home and trimming the loss of U.S. dollars and gold.

The big rush of U.S. corporations to build plants overseas appears to have tried. And a larger proportion of such expansion is being financed abroad rather than with additional Yankee dollars.

The auto industry seems to have completed most of its European ventures. The chief remaining increase in spending there now is by U.S. chemical firms. The total of U.S. manufacturing expansion in Western Europe this year is a bit below last year, and American firms tell the U.S. Department of Commerce that next year's spending will be down still more.

Part of the slowdown in American business spending in the Common Market may be due to increased opposition there to what they fear will be American domination of their industries.

But part of the lag may be due to the signs that the big growth in the European economy in recent years is peaking out, too.

Most interesting to Washington monetary officials is that this year the worldwide investments of U.S. manufacturing petroleum and mining companies is calling for only 16 per cent additional funds financed from U.S. sources. The rest of the cost is being borne by earnings and funds generated abroad by previous U.S. investments there.

This is important just now because the United States is trying to trim the flow of dollars

Try and Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

FORMER Mayor John F. Hyland suffered a minor debacle the day he delivered a speech that he had not bothered to read over in advance. Along about Page Five he came to one phrase that read, "This reminds me of my favorite story about a traveling salesman."

It developed that the Mayor had never heard the joke before, and he laughed so hard his glasses fell off and smashed on the floor. The chairman of the dinner finished the speech for him.

Pierre Boule, the man who wrote "Bridge on the River Kwai," has just had a new book published in France called "The Planet of the Monkeys," which will be put on the presses in America as soon as it is translated. Boule's new story is a shocker. The time is several hundred years hence - and mankind has retrogressed to the pithecanthropoid stage - a creature with no brains to speak of, orating from instinct. The monkeys, meanwhile, have become so smart from imitating humans and playing parts in innumerable experiments that they now run the works. They have put the men into cages, and it's the monkeys who are conducting the experiments on humans. Pretty prospect to contemplate!

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...
By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My child is 2½ years old. He was in perfect health when suddenly his crying became uncontrollable.

The doctor said it was "acute intussusception". Surgery was not necessary because the condition was diagnosed so quickly. Perhaps other mothers of infants will benefit by knowing about this condition.

Mrs. A. L. O. Michigan Dear Mr. O.: Intussusception is described as the telescoping of a section of the intestine. Like the collapsing part of a telescope, a portion of the intestine becomes trapped and produces pain and spasm.

When it occurs, it is almost always in infants and very young children. Fortunately, it is rare in comparison to the frequency of the simple causes of bellyache.

At one time, early surgery was considered the only treatment for intussusception. The loops of bowel are gently released and restored to their normal position.

It seems that fewer cases now need the immediacy of surgery. The barium X-Rays which are used to demonstrate the cause of intestinal blockage sometimes exert enough gentle pressure to unlock the bowel disturbance.

The lesson to be learned and remembered is that any unexplained abdominal complaint in a child deserves investigation by the doctor.

My chiropractor has told me that I have glaucoma and that I will eventually become blind. He says there isn't anything that can be done to help this condition.

I am 36 years old. How many years does it usually take before one becomes blind? I am terribly concerned, as I have six small children.

Do you think I would benefit by seeing an eye specialist?

Mrs. B. Y. M. New Jersey Dear Mrs. M.: Chiropractors generally work within the confines of their own skills. It is hardly conceivable that your chiropractor would be audacious enough to suggest that you have glaucoma and that you will eventually become blind.

The fears that have been unnecessarily implanted have done you a great injustice. The remarkable strides that have been made in the control of glaucoma do not warrant your concern about the possibility of becoming blind.

Problem for Tito

When an American journalist questioned Tito the other day about the Yugoslav author Milovan Djilas, who is languishing in jail in his homeland while his books about Communism continue to make his reputation in America, the visiting Yugoslav dictator actually turned nasty. Quite peremptorily he said that anything concerning the treatment of Djilas was a purely internal affair.

Behind the anger of Tito there is a strange story that makes very little sense unless it is probed to its bottom. The truth is that Tito himself might be inclined to treat his old friend and comrade Djilas with some lenience. The particular book that got Djilas incarcerated in 1962 for his second spell as a political prisoner was his historical record, "Conversations With Stalin". Since Tito himself had broken with Stalin, few people in the West could see why he should object to Djilas's exposure of the methods of the Russian tyrant. The mystery deepened the other day for me when I learned that William Jovanovich, head of the New York firm of Harcourt, Brace and World, which publishes Djilas, had offered to suppress the manuscript of "Conversations With Stalin" if it would help to keep its author out of prison. The Jovanovich offer was ignored. Someone in Yugoslavia wanted to keep Djilas behind bars anyway.

"BIG LIFT" ACTION—Heavy M-48 tanks of the U.S. Army's 2nd Armored Division move through narrow streets of Grossmunn, West Germany, in an Operation "Big Lift" maneuver. It's part of a NATO exercise. (Radiophoto)

The best evidence is that Djilas is the victim of a power fight in Yugoslavia's Communist party. Tito, once a law unto himself, is getting old and, according to those who know him best, has taken to living "la dolce vita", the easy life. He takes the advice of Alexander Rankovich and Edward Kardelj, who are the leading figures in his politburo. Rankovich and Kardelj are very much concerned with the problem of the succession when Tito dies. Since they, like Tito, have been anti-Stalin, they couldn't care less about Djilas's exposures of Stalinism in his book. But they do worry over the fact that Milovan Djilas has a great and loyal following among the Yugoslav people, including many of the rank and file of the Communist Party. They are afraid that a free Djilas might be the source of great competition in determining the succession when Tito goes.

So Tito, to satisfy his kitchen cabinet, keeps Djilas in prison. There was a story, emanating from Belgrade, that the Yugoslav boss might free Djilas in order to improve relations with the United States. But apparently Rankovich and Kardelj have prevailed upon him to take his chances on American favor without making such a propitiating gesture.

The violence of Tito's resentment over being questioned about Djilas in a press conference. Or it could have been an index of a troubled conscience. Or it could have been a manifestation of surprise that the demonstrations against him in New York City should have been so spirited and tenacious.

Originally, Tito was dubious about making his trip to the United States. When he was here in 1960 he was roundly booed, and he did not like it. But George Kennan, once the U.S. Ambassador in Yugoslavia assured Tito that he might count on an orderly welcome to the U.S. in the atmosphere of 1963. The New York police expected some demonstrations, notably by the Hungarian Freedom Fighters who have learned that one placard on a stick is worth a thousand letters to the newspapers.

But what surprised everybody was the sudden apparition of a young group of Serb and Croat Freedom Fighters who are mostly in their early twenties. There are about three thousand young Serbs and Croats in America who have come to this country in the past four or five years. Bitterly disappointed with the fruits of Communism in their home country, they are fanatically anti-Communist. The depth of the anger which they expressed by one means or another concerted Tito. When he was told that the young Serbs and Croats were particularly well organized in California, he canceled his trip west. The attack of influenza was merely an excuse.

Tito's memories of the United States this time will not be particularly pleasant for one who likes "la dolce vita". But he will swallow any resentment for the very good reason that he can still use American money. The Yugoslav Communists may not need the arms they

Grandma's Wash Line Provided Useful Hints

By Eleanor Ross

Our grandmothers were able to point with pride at their weekly display of wash on the line. Since their sparkling results weren't due just to washboard and elbow grease, it might be worth comparing past washday procedures with those of the present.

It all began with sorting the laundry — a sorting according to amount of soil as well as according to color.

Grandmother placed great stock in this first step.

So remember that children's gym socks, although originally white, are not compatible with white sheets and cases.

Next came the pre-treatment, particularly soiled areas. You know from past experience that grease - stained cottons put into the washing machine usually come out with the same old stains.

Grandma used a sure cure for this ailment!

While clothes were still dry, she scrubbed stains with a damp nail brush first rubbed over a cake of yellow soap and then dipped into a saucer of dry sal soda. She let this mixture dry on the garment, then proceeded with the laundering.

She also pre-treated the soil ring on collars and cuffs of shirts and blouses, but here she used a damp brush and just dry sal.

For clothes with heavy all-over soil she resorted to the pre-wash soak. While her reasoning here was right, her timing was wrong. The overnight soak, of which she was a staunch advocate, has been proved by modern laundry experts to be much too long. Twenty minutes are ample to loosen soil from its moorings. After that period it only settles back in the clothes.

There's a remedy for that dingy gray look that occasionally clouds your white wear.

Grandma used a salt-and-water soak, but all you have to do is to load up the washing machine add three tablespoons of the sal and start the machine rolling. You don't add any soap or detergent. This operation removes what experts refer to as "washing scum", also known as "lattle-tale gray".

When the cycle is completed you go through the whole bit again, this time using soap or detergent and sal. Since sal acts as a water softener as well as a pre-treating agent, you should use considerably less detergent than you usually do.

Try this laundry brightening procedure at least a couple of times a year. It pays off. Not only does it prolong the life of your washables, but the sight of the brighter and whiter laundry flapping away on the line is a real morale-booster.

Use leftover mashed potatoes for patties. Just mix an egg with two cups of the potatoes and shape; brown in butter or margarine in a skillet. If you have an electric skillet, cook the patties at 340 degrees.

If you are not sure how many egg whites you dropped into that jar in the refrigerator — to save for angel food cake or other dishes — remember that a couple of egg whites yield about one-quarter cup.

Dear Abby: It's Too Late Now!

DEAR ABBY: Six weeks ago a neighbor of ours lost a child. They were all broken up about it and the mother was under sedation for several weeks. Our problem is we did not send them a sympathy card and now it is bothering me. Do you think it would give them a lift if we sent them a card now? We need an answer.

Smoked Fish Scare Hurts Business at Lake Markets

CLEVELAND (AP) — Officials of Ohio fisheries along Lake Erie report the scare over seven recent deaths from botulism poisoning has driven customers from fish markets all along the lakes and also rocked inland sales.

Commercial fishermen from Sandusky to Conneaut have been freezing their catches in hope of better days ahead.

The fishermen, already hard hit by a poor fall fishing season, blame the latest sales drop on the federal warning against eating smoked fish processed in the Great Lakes area.

Comparatively few fish are smoked for commercial use on this side of Lake Erie. The ban does not affect canned and fresh fish.

Harold Pearson of the Pearson Fish Co. in Conneaut said about 35,000 pounds of the firm's last shipment to Chicago were returned by wholesalers who could not find a market for them. Normally his fishery trucks 70,000 pounds of fresh perch a week to the Chicago market.

He also noted a 25 per cent drop in fresh fish sales at the company's own market in Conneaut.

"All we can do is put them in the freezer and hope for the best," Pearson said. "We bought some smoked white fish from Erie, Pa., for sale last Friday and wound up eating them ourselves. Nobody would buy them."

The situation also has damaged sales of fresh fish and completely removed smoked fish from the market in Vermilion, according to Ray H. Full, president of the Kishman Fish Co. The company has branches in Huron and Painesville.

In Cleveland the Axelrod Distributing Co., the only firm here that prepares smoked fish, reported all its seven ovens were shut down this week. The company normally smokes 10,000 pounds of fish each week.

Add a little butter and dark brown sugar to the cavities of halved baked acorn squash shortly before the squash is tender.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married several years now — I might add, to a good man. But a very important matter has come up, which is: This man was married before and his first wife was (and still is) in a mental hospital. They have children. As far as I know he never was divorced from her, but he said, under the circumstances, it was all right to get married again. I would like to know, is our marriage legal? I am not a young woman and I have never earned my own living. Thank you.

THINKING OUT LOUD: DEAR THINKING: There are NO circumstances under which a man may marry again while he is still married to another woman.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "J": We may not ask of God, "Why did this have to happen?" Rather should we say, "Since this HAS happened, Lord, give me the strength to bear it, and show me where to go from here." Then refrain from adding the burden of your own sorrow to the troubles of those who love you.

Mayor Requests Water Rationing

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Due to the continuing drought, citizens of this Clinton County city of 9,000 have been asked to conserve water.

In an emergency announcement Tuesday, Mayor Bates Harcum asked them to "keep their water consumption to a bare minimum by refraining from washing all motor vehicles, watering lawns, etc., and reducing their normal home usage as much as possible."

Frank O'Neill, general manager of the Clinton County Water Co. said there is a 42-day water level in the city's reservoir.

"The sprinkling of rain Sunday night was of no help whatsoever," he added.

Grandma's Wash Line Provided Useful Hints

By Eleanor Ross

Our grandmothers were able to point with pride at their weekly display of wash on the line. Since their sparkling results weren't due just to washboard and elbow grease, it might be worth comparing past washday procedures with those of the present.

It all began with sorting the laundry — a sorting according to amount of soil as well as according to color.

Grandmother placed great stock in this first step.

So remember that children's gym socks, although originally white, are not compatible with white sheets and cases.

Next came the pre-treatment, particularly soiled areas. You know from past experience that grease-stained cottons put into the washing machine usually come out with the same old stains.

Grandma used a sure cure for this ailment!

While clothes were still dry, she scrubbed stains with a damp nail brush first rubbed over a cake of yellow soap and then dipped into a saucer of dry sal soda. She let this mixture dry on the garment, then proceeded with the laundering.

She also pre-treated the soil ring on collars and cuffs of shirts and blouses, but here she used a damp brush and just dry sal.

For clothes with heavy all-over soil she resorted to the pre-wash soak. While her reasoning here was right, her timing was wrong. The overnight soak, of which she was a staunch advocate, has been proved by modern laundry experts to be much too long. Twenty minutes are ample to loosen soil from its moorings. After that period it only settles back in the clothes.

There's a remedy for that dingy gray look that occasionally clouds your white wear.

Grandma used a salt-and-water soak, but all you have to do is to load up the washing machine add three tablespoons of the sal and start the machine rolling. You don't add any soap or detergent. This operation removes what experts refer to as "washing scum", also known as "tattle-tale gray".

When the cycle is completed you go through the whole bit again, this time using soap or detergent and sal. Since sal acts as a water softener as well as a pre-treating agent, you should use considerably less detergent than you usually do.

Try this laundry brightening procedure at least a couple of times a year. It pays off. Not only does it prolong the life of your washables, but the sight of the brighter and whiter laundry flapping away on the line is a real morale-booster.

Use leftover mashed potatoes for patties. Just mix an egg with two cups of the potatoes and shape; brown in butter or margarine in a skillet. If you have an electric skillet, cook the patties at 340 degrees.

If you are not sure how many egg whites you dropped into that jar in the refrigerator — to save for angel food cake or other dishes — remember that a couple of egg whites yield about one-quarter cup.

Library Assn. Chides Little Hoover Panel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Library Association has adopted a resolution condemning the report of the so-called Little Hoover Commission, which recommended that the Ohio State Library be closed.

The resolution, adopted at the association's weekend business meeting was released Tuesday.

It said the commission report "showed lack of understanding of the true purposes of the state library," and added: "we are firmly convinced that the recommendations would cost more than less money and that services will deteriorate."

The Little Hoover group has been studying various branches of state government with an eye toward more efficiency and economy. It recommended that most duties of the state library be turned over to Ohio State University.

Nkrumah's Ghana abounds with trappings markedly similar to those of communism.

His party and the government are regarded as one and the same. The Ghana Young Pioneers follows a Soviet pattern. The trade union movement is a carbon copy of the Soviet Union's. Strikes are illegal. There are 105 state farms. Government is in the building, furniture, and many other businesses. Innumerable Communist bloc technicians have been assigned to the country.

But there is another side. In Nkrumah's grand design there is a place for private as well as state enterprise and recent legislation encourages foreign investment.

Six years of independence have brought progress unmatched elsewhere in Africa in many fields. Tribalism has been largely eliminated. Ghana spends more on education in relation to national income than any other country in the world. Roads are the best in West Africa.

Nkrumah seeks to turn Ghana into the nonaligned showpiece of Africa. He thinks he can do it with his homespun brand of socialism, and by walking a political tightrope between West and East.

The 54-year-old president is a professed Marxist. He is also a shrewd and practical politician, ambitious and fiercely independent. Westerners here are convinced he never would willingly become the puppet of Moscow.

With Over 200 Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Adolph Menjou, an elegant dresser who mourned the fading popularity of spats and knickers, was himself mourned by Hollywood today.

The veteran actor, whose career spanned more than 50 years and over 200 films, died of chronic hepatitis Tuesday at his Beverly Hills home. He was 73.

Menjou's third wife, the former Verree Teasdale, and their adopted son, Peter, 27, were at his side.

The actor had been in ill health nine months, his son said.

Menjou, born in Pittsburgh, Pa., was filmdom's epitome of the European gentleman.

His clipped mustache and precise speech, along with his dapper clothes gave him the image. He said it was deliberate.

Menjou attended Cornell University where he wrote, produced and directed college theatricals.

Before World War I, he made screen love to such stars as Marguerite Clark and Norma Talmadge.

After the war, Menjou followed the film industry to California. He hit his stride in 1923, appearing in "The Three Musketeers," with Douglas Fairbanks, "The Sheik," with Rudolph Valentino, and "Woman of Paris," with Charlie Chaplin.

From 1924 to 1929, he earned a reported $7,000 a week. He signed a contract with MGM in 1927 for the same figure, but declined afterward to sign exclusive contracts and remained a free lance actor for the rest of his career.

In 1953-54, Menjou starred as narrator of a television series, "My Favorite Story."

No One Hurt In This Wreck

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Portsmouth police officers figure they probably prevented an accident the other day.

Patrolman Ed McHenry and Dave Scott stopped Jerry Lee Meadows, 19, of Portsmouth as he drove his car backward in the wrong lane over an East End viaduct.

Meadows appeared in Municipal Court Tuesday and pleaded guilty to charges of reckless and unsafe vehicle and having fictitious tags.

He told officers he was driving his auto backward because the forward gears in his transmission went out. Police said he had driven the car backward from a drive-in restaurant about six blocks away, over a zig-zag course. In the process he crossed both double lanes of U. S. 52 expressway in the busy East End shopping district of Portsmouth.

The officers said examination of the car disclosed the emergency brake didn't work, the foot-brake was almost gone, the car had no muffler and it had three slick tires.

Also, the car had no front license plate, and the rear one fell off when they touched it.

AUBURNDALE, Fla. (AP)—Fourteen wild bulls which broke out of their pen created a day of pandemonium here. Highlights included: a bull charging a police cruiser, which swerved out of the way; another chasing a city councilman up a street; a lady wacking a bull with a broom because he was in her flower bed; and a red-shirted youngster running home to put on a less provocative shirt so he could join in the various chases that developed.

Goldwater Backing Grows in Ohio, But Nixon Still Mustering Support

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Republicans, as of now, appear eager to enter next July's San Francisco convention carrying the Goldwater banner, but willing—in some cases happy — to settle for Nixon if there is a deadlock.

That, in essence, is the result of a poll of grass - roots GOP leaders just completed by The Associated Press.

With 47 per cent of 105 Republican county chairmen and state central committeemen replying, these were the principal significant developments:

—There is a definite wave of sentiment flowing through the grass roots in Ohio in favor of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona as the party's presidential nominee—80 per cent of those replying to the poll. But only 62 per cent believe he will come off with the top prize.

—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, loser to Democrat John F. Kennedy in the 1962 thriller-diller, still has impressive support in Ohio, the state which gave him his biggest plurality of all in his first bid for the presidency. About 23 per cent believe he will get a second crack at Kennedy.

—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller got only a bare mention on one ballot. No Ohio GOP leader called him the strongest candidate, as of this date, that the Republican party can muster for the 1964 race and no one vied with his nomination.

The Associated Press asked only two questions in its poll:

1. Who is the strongest potential GOP candidate against Kennedy on the basis of present conditions? Why?

2. Whom do you think the party will nominate in 1964? Why?

On question No. 1, Goldwater got 39 votes (80 per cent), Nixon drew 8 for 16 per cent, Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes got 1 and one man said he didn't know.

There was considerable shuffling on question No. 2. Five who had said they believed Goldwater is the strongest potential candidate as of now predicted Nixon's nomination. One man, who is strong for Goldwater now, predicted the nomination of Michigan's governor, George Romney. One vote for Nixon as of now shifted to Goldwater as the ultimate nominee.

One chairman, while expressing the view that Goldwater now is the strongest potential candidate, rode the fence and said the nominee will be either Goldwater or Nixon. That was tabulated as one-half vote for the Arizona senator and one-half vote for the former vice president.

The summary on the question: "Whom do you think the party will nominate in 1964?"

	Votes Pct.
Goldwater	30 1/2 62
Nixon	11 1/2 23
Rhodes	1 2
Romney	1 2
Don't know	5 11

Goldwater supporters, aware they are treading on new ground in backing him, seem to sense an invisible barrier between their favorite and the actual nomination. There were several references to the unseen force.

One northeastern Ohio Republican leader who did not wish to be identified, observed "... the professionals, particularly in the East, may be successful in stopping him."

But Fred E. Jones, Warren County chairman, was more cheerful:

"The conservative wing of the GOP is more powerful than ever before. If their number is short of an initial majority, they will win over the undecided with the ardor of their convictions."

The big thing going for Nixon in Ohio seems to be the possibility that Goldwater's initial head of steam will fall short of the nominating goal. If that is the way things turn out, predictions that Nixon will win a second nomination are a dime a dozen.

Such experienced Republican leaders as Jennings B. Cole of Portsmouth, 6th District state central committeeman and John B. Kelly, Logan County chairman, feel that Nixon, although he disavows any intention of being a candidate, will have the inside track for a second nomination should the San Francisco convention deadlock.

Says Kelly of Nixon: "No other candidate will be acceptable to all factions of the party."

The most - frequent comment favoring Goldwater's potential candidacy is that it would give voters a chance to choose between what Republicans regard as the ultra - liberal policies of the Kennedy administration and the conservative Goldwater views.

A northeastern Ohio leader who did not wish to be identified, commented: "A conservative - liberal contest has been postponed for 20 years. This may well be the opportunity to test the relative strength of the two positions."

And his from Robert N. Bell, Jefferson County chairman: "This nation of ours is now ready for a showdown between conservatism and the great welfare state ..."

A typical Goldwater supporter looked at Rockefeller this way, in the words of Knox County's Charles M. Cole: "The liberal Rockefeller does not offer the party any real chance in the south and would not be strong in the midwest and only enjoys fair support in the east ..."

On the positive side of Nixon supporters:

Thomas R. Lloyd, Guernsey County: "Nixon's views are those of a moderate, responsible statesman ... he would need to add very little strength to that which he already has demonstrated in order to defeat the Democratic nominee in 1964."

Wallace V. Nichols of Madison County: "The margin of victory was very small the last time and more than enough voters are disenchanted with Kennedy. They would now change it."

Curtis Clark, Morgan County: "I don't think the liberals will go with Goldwater."

W.R. Rees of Montgomery County: "I feel that our practical politicians realize that Goldwater could not be elected and I predict a state of Nixon and (Kentucky Sen. Thurston B. Morton."

On Goldwater's positive side: Marcus V. McEvoy of Trumbull County:

"Goldwater is so far out in front right now that nobody can catch him. He has the greatest potential for the most dramatic buildup of any Republican since Teddy Roosevelt and his election will generate the greatest wave of American and domestic and international confidence this century has seen. Those still reluctant, will soon see the handwriting on the wall and read it correctly."

Gordon Scherer, Hamilton County (Cincinnati): "There's no question but that Barry Goldwater is the strongest candidate right now. I've been in the South last year and this year and I'm convinced he'd carry the South if the election were held today. As of this comment I think it is Barry Goldwater who will be nominated, simply because the demand from the grass roots is not confined to the South."

A. L. (Sonny) Demaio, Cuyahoga County: "The strongest potential candidate now? Goldwater, because of the current situation with deteriorating foreign policy and unrest due to civil rights. The ultimate nominee? Anyone would be foolish to say now. It depends greatly upon the way the situation exists next July. So many things can happen."

A pox on all your houses? State Sen. Tennyson Guyer, from Hancock County, expressed the opinion that Rockefeller's divorce and remarriage have "removed him from any serious consideration," that Goldwater is the "hope of the Democrats" so they could "murder him at the polls." And that the GOP must nominate someone "not currently being mentioned."

"With a good strong man, like J. Edgar Hoover, for example, (The GOP) could wipe out the Democrats in one election."

Then there was the chairman from north-central Ohio who declined to be quoted directly. He had a number of comments: "Goldwater: People fall for glamor a la Kennedy. Goldwater is the older ladies' heart thief." "Kennedy: The bobby - sox idol." "Nixon: The refuge of the pros." "Rockefeller: Best - qualified, but divorce plus remarriage murdered him politically."

Having delivered himself of those scattergun views, the gentlemen may feel it is good policy to hide.

Judge Says Special Probe Not Valid

CLEVELAND (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Earl R. Hoover ruled today that County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan has no authority to appoint a special prosecutor to investigate allegations of misconduct in the prosecutor's own office.

Judge Hoover said the Cuyahoga County grand jury has the power to investigate on its own allegations concerning illegal wiretapping charges raised against the prosecutor.

Corrigan's appointment of Attorney George J. McMonagle to investigate the wiretapping charges had been challenged by Jack G. Day and Bernard A. Berkman, both attorneys. Day and Berkman had filed earlier this month the taxpayer's suit which first raised the question of wiretapping.

The two said their suit was a civil action and insisted that it be tried on its civil aspects instead of the criminal court branch of Common Pleas Court.

They asked Hoover for a restraining order against Corrigan and also to quash subpoenas for their appearance before the grand jury, which was to have started its deliberations Monday.

In the suit filed Oct. 8, Day and Berkman alleged that the prosecutor's office had purchased wiretapping equipment and that the equipment was being used illegally by the Cleveland police.

Tax Distribution Is $5,034 Here

State Auditor Roger W. Tracy announced today the final distribution of the 1962 motor vehicle license money to Pickaway County totaled $5,034.36.

Total state wide distribution was $1,027,985.42 as compared with $1,357,034.28 this time last year, according to the report.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some television series, like thoroughbred horses and royal families, have recorded blood lines. Others just grow.

Some are direct descendants of popular books—"Perry Mason" and "The Virginian." Others, including "Dr. Kildare," trace their ancestry to old movies.

"The Defenders" emerged from a script, "The Defender," which with one lawyer, was a single show in a dramatic anthology several seasons back.

"Petticoat Junction" is a child of "The Beverly Hillbillies," but somehow has lost all family resemblance.

The Danny Thomas Show may be the most prolific television show. Close and distant relatives include The Dick Van Dyke Show, The Joey Bishop Show, The Bill Dana Show and The Andy Griffith Show.

By next season The Danny Thomas show may become a TV patriarch—with a third generation to its credit.

The Andy Griffith Show added last season as a country-style character who worked out so well that singer-turned actor Jim Nabors became a regular called Gomer Pyle. This season Gomer is around even more.

Jim had never acted before he joined the Griffith show. He had tried out for the part of nephew Jethro in "Beverly Hillbillies" and had been turned down on the grounds he wasn't handsome enough.

Television's top executives Tuesday were studying and worrying over the new and important national Nielsen ratings, estimates of the size of audiences for the various network shows during the first two weeks of October. The fate of from eight to a dozen shows may hang on the figures and the ones released two weeks from now.

The Nielsen list of the most popular shows contained few surprises. "Beverly Hillbillies" continued to be its top-rated program. "Bonanza" followed, trailed by Dick Van Dyke, Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith, "Petticoat Junction," Danny Thomas, Red Skelton, Perry Mason, Donna Reed, "I've Got a Secret" and "The Patty Duke Show," in that order including a couple of ties.

Among the shows with disappointing ratings—also anticipated—were the Judy Garland Show, the Jerry Lewis Show and "Espionage."

Recommended tonight: "Chronicle," CBS, 7:30-8:30 (EST)—a documentary about Blackpool, traditional summer resort of Britain's millworkers; "Espionage," NBC 9-10—Adventure story based on a real episode during the Irish Rebellion.

Teeth Theft Is Considered Petty Larceny

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—To Mrs. Jeanne Bishop, false teeth are worth $200. To her former husband, Robert Bishop, 31, they could be worth nothing. To Asst. City Law Director Charles Carter, they are worth less than $60.

Carter reported Tuesday that Mrs. Bishop sought to file affidavit against her former husband on a charge of grand larceny, alleging he stole her teeth.

Carter said she wanted to attach the full value of $200 to the teeth. Since theft of articles valued in excess of $60 constitutes a felony, it posed a problem to the prosecutor.

He reported Mrs. Bishop yielded and agreed to file a warrant on a lesser charge of petty larceny on his advice.

Said Carter: "I don't want to be a party to sending a man to the penitentiary for stealing false teeth."

Police served the warrant on Bishop Tuesday night. He posted $100 for his Municipal Court appearance.

Winds of Racial Unrest Spread in Rural Areas

EDITOR'S NOTE—Racial unrest has spread from larger urban centers of the South into the smaller towns, the rural areas that make up the solidly segregated grossroots. This is one of a series of three articles taking a closeup look at these moves.

By DON MCKEE

AMERCUS, Ga. (AP) — Racial conflict smashed the sleepy calm of this southwest Georgia town when Negroes set out four months ago to use the front door of the segregated movie theater.

The winds of racial unrest that buffeted the nation last summer had swept into tightly segregated rural Georgia.

Picketing of the theater and street marches that produced violence were met with arrests and a powerful new weapon—charges against integration leaders of trying to start a revolt against the government, an offense punishable by death.

Demonstrations stopped. White officials, momentarily at least, breathed easier. The integration drive in Americus, its 15,000 population split about equally between white and Negro, was the second in southwest Georgia. The first, a year-long struggle in nearby Albany, failed.

Cracking of racial barriers in Americus would hit at the heart of the white South's resistance, at the grassroots of segregation. While they may not be aware of the broader significance of Americus, the white townspeople have no intention of allowing integration to take place here.

"I don't think Americus is going to take any integration," said Sheriff Fred B. Chappell. "And I don't think there'll be any more trouble."

Chappell and other officials based their hopes on the jailing of four youths charged with attempting to incite insurrection. This had effectively taken the integration leaders out of circulation—unless court action freed them.

Across town in his office, John Barnum, wealthy Negro mortician and a persistent force in the integration drive, was on the telephone trying to mount a new attack.

Barnum was asking a Negro mother if her daughter, an honor student, would apply for admission to white Georgia Southwestern College here.

"We aren't going to quit," he said.

"We have discontinued demonstrations. I think the good already has been accomplished—and the suffering is much too great. It's too hard to get out of jail."

The climax came Aug. 8 when police halted more than 200 Negro marchers. Bricks and other missiles were thrown. Several policemen were injured; Negro leaders reported 28 injuries among the marchers. The sheriff said there was heavy property damage.

Among these jailed were Donald Harris, 24, of New York; John Perdew, 21, of Denver; Colo., and Ralph W. Allen, 22, of Melrose, Mass. Perdew and Allen are white. All are members of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Demonstrators were clubbed by policemen. The committee charged that Harris, Perdew and Allen were beaten. Police officials denied the allegations of brutality.

In a letter smuggled from his cell, Allen said he and Perdew were attacked by a policeman. "My head was streaming blood," wrote Allen, who has been pushing Negro voter registration in this area for more than a year and has been jailed many times. He is on leave from Trinity College in Hartford, Conn.

Perdew, a national Merit Scholarship student at Harvard, corroborated Allen's charges. In their denial, police said that both Perdew and Allen threw bricks at officers and that they had attacked a policeman.

In another march on Aug. 17, Zev Aelony, 25, white worker for the Congress of Racial Equality, was arrested. He was charged with encouraging Negroes to march without a permit.

The charges against Perdew, Allen and Harris—a recent graduate of Rutgers University—were unlawful assembly, obstructing arrest and assaulting an officer.

Later, these three and Aelony were charged also with trying to incite insurrection under an 1871 statute. Prosecutor Stephen Pace Jr. said he did not know whether the statute had ever been used. Actually it had been employed many years ago in a case involving alleged Communist activities.

While Pace has fought hard for his four, he has said he has no intention of seeking the death penalty. He said he hoped to keep the leaders in jail to prevent further trouble.

The charge and the refusal of bail for the four youths touched off protests from several parts of the nation.

While this dispute went on in the courts, Negroes in Americus concentrated on voter registration and plans to break the color barrier at the junior college here.

There were some signs that Americus might eventually work out its problems. The white ministerial association recently asked the Chamber of Commerce to create a biracial committee.

"What the hell for?" asked a chamber director. The proposal was tabled.

Chamber of Commerce assistance subsequently was given to creation of an industrial corporation headed by Negroes concerned about their growing unemployment in this predominantly agricultural area.

What will happen in Americus?

"I think there's hope of working this out," said Barnum. "I think it's going to be hard but there are enough Christian people here to work it out."

A white businessman of a fourth-generation Americus family said, "I wish I knew the answer. We've been presented with a tough problem. We've got to work it out as best we can."

He paused. "But that doesn't mean integration."

The remarkable Maya culture flourished in what are now the Yucatan, Guatemala and western Honduras. The civilization endured from pre-Christian times until the Spanish conquest.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has won the first big round in his attempt to get a civil rights bill through Congress this year. But he may be on the ropes, with no bill passed before the year ends.

Time, because there isn't much left of 1963, and the opposition of Southern Democrats in the Senate will work against him. There have been four main steps in this struggle so far, with two more still to come.

1. There was no indication until June 19 that Kennedy intended to ask Congress for a strong, new civil rights law this year. In the spring Negro demonstrations, with accompanying violence, built up tensions.

On June 18 he presented Congress with a fairly strong program. There was instant opposition from Southern Democrats. Republicans, or some of them, in House and Senate were rather reserved.

The bill, as a necessary preliminary before it could get to the full House for a vote, went to the House Judiciary Committee. On this committee, headed by Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., liberals of both parties dominate.

2. Under the urging of civil rights advocates they decided the Kennedy bill wasn't strong enough. So they scrapped Kennedy's proposal, although retaining some of it, and put to gether a much stronger one of their own.

It should be remembered that in this Congress, where there is a big gap between Southern and liberal Democrats, not all Republicans see eye to eye with their House leader, the conservative Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Instantly Kennedy was afraid this strong bill was too strong to pass in this overwhelmingly conservative Congress which, although run by huge Democrat ic majorities, has been less than ecstatic about a civil rights bill at all.

He sent his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to Celler's committee to plead for a softer bill. This didn't make a dent. So the President himself took a hand.

3. He began calling White House conferences, a number of them over several days, of Democratic and Republican leaders to ask them to use their weight to tone down the committee bill. He finally got his way.

But it was worked out in amazing fashion.

The Kennedy administration an. Republicans in the House—but not House Democrats—worked out a compromise bill which Republicans agreed to and Democrats on the Celler committee were finally persuaded to accept.

4. So Tuesday at the House Judiciary Committee voted to scrap the strong bill its members had wanted and approved the one manufactured by the administration and the Republicans.

This is stronger than the first Kennedy bill but weaker than the one the Judiciary Committee wanted to substitute for it. It was promptly denounced as too weak by some of the leaders among the civil rights advocates.

And — the Kennedy administration was so grateful to the Republicans that the attorney general publicly praised them. Any chance of a civil rights bill becoming law this year without their help would have been remote.

It was an astonishing admission when it is remembered that in this Congress Democrats so far outnumber Republicans they could put anything through—if they operated as a single party and stuck together. But they don't.

Man Indicted For Murder

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — China Lee Gardner, 44, of Lorain was indicted by the Lorain County grand jury Tuesday on a first degree murder charge in connection with a killing that was attributed by authorities to racial tension.

Gardner, a Negro, was charged with killing Jose Crespo-Ferez, 23, of Lorain, a Puerto Rican, the night of Sept. 92.

Crespo-Ferez was standing with a group of men in front of a Lorain bar when one of the men threw stones at Gardner's car as he passed by them.

Police said Gardner stopped, approached the men on foot and started firing a .32-caliber pistol. Crespo-Ferez was hit by three of the seven shots fired.

The grand jury also indicted Robert Adams, 47, of Wellington for first-degree murder in the fatal beating of his landlady, George S. McCulloch, 80, Oct. 5.

Police said Adams told them the beating followed a threat by McCulloch to evict him for non-payment of rent.

Randall R. Harris, 39, of Grafton was indicted for first-degree manslaughter in the Traffic death of James D. Allen, 7, in Grafton Oct. 5.

Harris' panel truck went out of control and struck the boy, who was standing at the entrance to his home. Sheriff's deputies said Harris admitted drinking three or four beers 20 minutes before the accident.

Breeders preserved the strain of dogs that Norman conquerors brought to England, giving rise to the term "blooded hound." The name bloodhound probably also derives from the dogs' skill in following the blood scent of wounded game.

They complained that their mail sometimes went to Levittown, N.Y., or Levittown, Pa., finally reaching them a week later.

were charged also with trying to incite insurrection under an 1871 statute. Prosecutor Stephen Pace Jr. said he did not know whether the statute had ever been used. Actually it had been employed many years ago in a case involving alleged Communist activities.

While Pace has fought bond for his four, he has said he has no intention of seeking the death penalty. He said he hoped to keep the leaders in jail to prevent further trouble.

The charge and the refusal of bail for the four youths touched off protests from several parts of the nation.

While this dispute went on in the courts, Negroes in Americus concentrated on voter registration and plans to break the color barrier at the junior college here.

There were some signs that Americus might eventually work out its problems. The white ministerial association recently asked the Chamber of Commerce to create a biracial committee.

"What the hell for?" asked a chamber director. The proposal was tabled.

Chamber of Commerce assistance subsequently was given to creation of an industrial corporation headed by Negroes concerned about their growing unemployment in this predominantly agricultural area.

What will happen in Americus?

"I think there's hope of working this out," said Barnum. "I think it's going to be hard but there are enough Christian people here to work it out."

A white businessman of a fourth-generation Americus family said, "I wish I knew the answer. We've been presented with a tough problem. We've got to work it out as best we can."

He paused. "But that doesn't mean integration."

The remarkable Maya culture flourished in what are now the Yucatan, Guatemala and western Honduras. The civilization endured from pre-Christian times until the Spanish conquest.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has won the first big round in his attempt to get a civil rights bill through Congress this year. But he may be on the ropes, with no bill passed before the year ends.

Time, because there isn't much left of 1963, and the opposition of Southern Democrats in the Senate will work against him. There have been four main steps in this struggle so far, with two more still to come.

1. There was no indication until June 19 that Kennedy intended to ask Congress for a strong, new civil rights law this year. In the spring Negro demonstrations, with accompanying violence, built up tensions.

On June 18 he presented Congress with a fairly strong program. There was instant opposition from Southern Democrats, Republicans, or some of them, in House and Senate were rather reserved.

The bill, as a necessary preliminary before it could get to the full House for a vote, went to the House Judiciary Committee. On this committee, headed by Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., liberals of both parties dominate.

2. Under the urging of civil rights advocates they decided the Kennedy bill wasn't strong enough. So they scrapped Kennedy's proposal, although retaining some of it, and put together a much stronger one of their own.

It should be remembered that in this Congress, where there is a big gap between Southern and liberal Democrats, not all Republicans see eye to eye with their House leader, the conservative Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Instantly Kennedy was afraid this strong bill was too strong to pass in this overwhelmingly conservative Congress which, although run by huge Democrat ic majorities, has been less than ecstatic about a civil rights bill at all.

He sent his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to Celler's committee to plead for a softer bill. This didn't make a dent. So the President himself took a hand.

3. He began calling White House conferences, a number of them over several days, of Democratic and Republican leaders to ask them to use their weight to tone down the committee bill. He finally got his way.

But it was worked out in amazing fashion.

The Kennedy administration an. Republicans in the House—but not House Democrats—worked out a compromise bill which Republicans agreed to and Democrats on the Celler committee were finally persuaded to accept.

4. So Tuesday at the House Judiciary Committee voted to scrap the strong bill its members had wanted and approved the one manufactured by the administration and the Republicans.

This is stronger than the first Kennedy bill but weaker than the one the Judiciary Committee wanted to substitute for it. It was promptly denounced as too weak by some of the leaders among the civil rights advocates.

And—the Kennedy administration was so grateful to the Republicans that the attorney general publicly praised them. Any chance of a civil rights bill becoming law this year without their help would have been remote.

It was an astonishing admission when it is remembered that in this Congress Democrats so far outnumber Republicans they could put anything through—if they operated as a single party and stuck together. But they don't.

At this point time begins to play its vital, perhaps fatal, part in the two big remaining steps.

5. It is now Oct. 30. It will take the Judiciary Committee 10 days or so to draft a report on the bill. Then this goes to the Rules Committee where it may be held up for a week or more before getting to the House for a vote.

That will mean past mid-November. Allowing for other delays, and the Thanksgiving Day holiday, it may be Dec. 1 before the Senate will or can start to act even though the House approves before then. House approval seems certain.

But, in order to try to kill the bill altogether, Senate Democrats from the South will filibuster. And there will be other jockeying. A filibuster can take weeks. Then the Christmas holidays intrude.

So it will be no surprise if a civil rights bill doesn't pass this year. Maybe it will in 1964.

Vote To Decide Name of Town

LIVITOWN, N.J. (AP) — They vote on a touchy subject here Tuesday—the name of the town.

Shall it remain the third Levittown in the nation, or revert to its original name of Willingboro, which dates back to 1688?

The campaign has been fought in the courts, on the streets and in the Levittown Life, a weekly newspaper.

The editor of the paper, Stanley Goldstein, 39, said the movement to restore the name to Willingboro started about a year ago as people became dissatisfied with being another Levittown.

They complained that their mail sometimes went to Levittown, N.Y., or Levittown, Pa., finally reaching them a week later.

Man Indicted For Murder

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — China Lee Gardner, 44, of Lorain was indicted by the Lorain County grand jury Tuesday on a first degree murder charge in connection with a killing that was attributed by authorities to racial tension.

Gardner, a Negro, was charged with killing Jose Crespo-Ferez, 23, of Lorain, a Puerto Rican, the night of Sept. 92.

Crespo-Ferez was standing with a group of men in front of a Lorain bar when one of the men threw stones at Gardner's car as he passed by them.

Police said Gardner stopped, approached the men on foot and started firing a .32-caliber pistol. Crespo-Ferez was hit by three of the seven shots fired.

The grand jury also indicted Robert Adams, 47, of Wellington for first-degree murder in the fatal beating of his landlord, George S. McCulloch, 80, Oct. 5.

Police said Adams told them the beating followed a threat by McCulloch to evict him for non-payment of rent.

Randall R. Harris, 39, of Grafton was indicted for first-degree manslaughter in the Traffic death of James D. Allen, 7, in Grafton Oct. 5.

Harris' panel truck went out of control and struck the boy, who was standing at the entrance to his home. Sheriff's deputies said Harris admitted drinking three or four beers 20 minutes before the accident.

Breeders preserved the strain of dogs that Norman conquerors brought to England, giving rise to the term "blooded hound." The name bloodhound probably also derives from the dogs' skill in following the blood scent of wounded game.

They complained that their mail sometimes went to Levittown, N.Y., or Levittown, Pa., finally reaching them a week later.

Cabbie Fails

To Collect Fare

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An unidentified Dayton man and his pet racoon caused nothing but trouble Tuesday for cab driver Herbert Baker.

Baker said he had driven the pair about 13 blocks when he smelled something and saw that the back seat was on fire.

He quickly stopped and called the Fire Department, but the fire truck's engine stalled. When it finally reached the scene, the cab was completely in flames.

In all the excitement the animal and its master—whom Baker said had been drinking—disappeared, without paying.

Cartoon Feature Prompts Reflections by Walt Disney

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The advent of a new cartoon feature—always a major occasion for ovals of the art of animation—prompted some reflections by Walt Disney.

The parent of Mickey Mouse, Snow White, et al, is offering as his Christmas gift to the nation "The Sword in the Stone," a fable of the early years of King Arthur. It is a rollicking tale, occupying a mere 79 minutes on the screen.

It took three years and a shade under $3 million to produce.

"A lot of people ask me why

I don't make more cartoon features," the head man mused. "Well, they are tricky things. Many other outfits have tried to make them, but none have succeeded."

Sale to Minors Brings Dry Spell

ATANTA (AP) — Drinking people in the Atlanta area may have to scout around considerably today to find a source of supply.

The licenses of 103 of the city's 187 retail liquor stores have been suspended until Dec. 2. The penalties were imposed for sales to minors.

"The cartoon features tie up a lot of people and take a great deal of time. That means money. 'Sleeping Beauty' cost $4.5 million—because we decided to use the big screen and had to fill in all that space with drawing. '101 Dalmatians' was not as high—$3.5 million."

"Dalmatians" was a hit. "Sleeping Beauty" was only a fair success. Walt's analysis gives a hint of the Disney genius.

"The dog picture was about animals and people," he observed, "while 'Sleeping Beauty' was a pageant. I'm always trying to reach people in the heart, to give them real emotion. Some of the boys around here fight me on it."

After "The Sword in the Stone," what?

The Disney artists are already well into a treatment of Kipling's "Jungle Book." The studio is preparing a "Winnie the Pooh" cartoon which may develop into a feature.

Truck Driver Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James Stalder, 44, a truck driver delivering bricks to a warehouse construction site, was killed Tuesday when a section of a new cement block wall collapsed.

ASKS COALITION — Pietro Nenni, Italian left wing Socialist leader, has called on his party to enter a coalition government headed by the center Christian Democrats. The move would give such a government a majority in Parliament and would isolate Italy's large Communist party.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

SONG ENDED: Without fanfare, the Senate Investigations subcommittee has rung down the curtain on Joseph Valachi and his vendetta against the Mafia.

The convicted narcotics racketeer and murderer was slipped into a closed session Tuesday for what apparently was his final day of testimony about the workings of a crime syndicate he calls Cosa Nostra but known usually to police as the Mafia.

Subcommittee chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Valachi was heard in secret because he was giving information which dealt with current and planned criminal proceedings.

A subcommittee spokesman said Valachi was returned to a cell in the District of Columbia Jail. Where he will go from there is a mystery.

HEALTH CARE: The House Ways and Means Committee will begin hearings Nov. 18 on President Kennedy's plan for health care for the aged.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., announced the group will hear testimony not only on the administration proposals—which never drew enough support to win the committee's approval—but also on adequacy of the medical programs under the Kerr-Mills Act which provides federal aid for state programs helping the indigent.

RED CROSS: The American Red Cross is getting another Army general as president.

It announced Tuesday that Gen. James Francis Collins will assume the $30,000-a-year post April 1, succeeding Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring after heading the national organization for more than seven years.

Red Cross Chairman E. Roland Harriman said Collins, commander of the Army in the Pacific, was the unanimous choice of the board of governors.

NEWS - PENTAGON: The Pentagon has issued new orders aimed at preventing rows between newsmen and military police at the scenes of off-base military accidents.

There have been clashes for years.

Under the new directive Tuesday MPs are told to ask "assistance of appropriate civil law enforcement officials in preventing compromise of (classified, material and in recovering all photographs, negatives and sketches which are presumed to contain classified information."

There was no explanation of how military or civil police would know immediately whether, for instance, a crashed plane was classified or contained classified material.

First Non-Stop Session Of Congress in 22 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will stay in operation right up to the start of the 1964 session. Even so, it may not have time enough to act this year on the top-priority tax cut and civil rights legislation.

Senators got the news Tuesday of the nonstop session—the first in 22 years—from Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and House leaders indicated they expect about the same sort of schedule.

Mansfield told his colleagues to expect a one-day break for Veterans Day, two days off at Thanksgiving and a 12-day Christmas-New Year's recess.

Mansfield said the Senate would be back Jan. 2 and that it might meet the morning of Jan. 3. The first session of the 88th Congress must — by law — end at noon that day.

If the Senate convenes in the morning of Jan. 3, it will stop at noon and reconvene one minute later to start the second session, Mansfield said.

The Senate will be faced with a bigger load in November and December than the House.

The House has passed one of President Kennedy's two top priority bills, the $11-billion tax cut. The other, a civil rights bill, was approved in committee Tuesday. Both are in the hearing stage in the Senate.

The limitations of the calendar appeared to make it almost certain that Congress cannot pass the bills this year.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen told newsmen it was his best guess that the civil rights bill would reach the Senate about Dec. 1.

A Southern filibuster is expected against the measure and that will probably use up December.

With long debate likely on civil rights, chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., can be expected to shut down his Finance Committee's consideration of the tax measure which he opposes.

Campaign Fund Soliciting Hit by Ohio Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oliver P. Bolton, R-Ohio, said today solicitation of campaign funds by a cabinet member arrogates the spirit if not the letter, of the law.

Bolton wrote President Kennedy that he alone is in a position to "halt such misuse of government power."

"As you are undoubtedly aware," Bolton told Kennedy, "I have made known in recent days my concern over the participation by a member of your cabinet, Secretary of Labor W.

Willard Wirtz, in the direct solicitation of funds from lobbyists and trade association officials who represent groups which have matters, from time to time, before his department.

"This solicitation was made in behalf of 'friends of Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr.' (D-N.J.)." After quoting from the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, Bolton said he had been informed by counsel that there has been no previous occasion to test in the courts such an action on the part of a member of the cabinet.

"Obviously, however," Bolton wrote, "such an action raises the question as to whether the spirit of the law has not been violated, either by a cabinet member issuing such an invitation or by associations whose members are either corporation or labor union making contributions under these circumstances."

"Already, the far-reaching effects of the example set by this incident can be seen."

"The 'friends of (Sen.) Ralph Yarborough' (D-Tex) within the past week held a fund-raising dinner in Austin, Texas, at which Postmaster General John A. Ronouski was scheduled to speak."

"Letters were sent to postal employees from a top official in the Texas regional post office urging them to attend as 'an opportunity to pay tribute to a friend of the Post Office Department.'"

Bolton said such activities set the stage for a "complete disintegration of ethical conduct at all levels of government."

Arsonist Said Dedicated to Doing Good

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Ann Thiem, confessed embezzler on trial in Medina County Common Pleas Court on an arson charge, was described by attorney Albert Himmel Tuesday as a hard-working woman, dedicated to doing good for her fellow man.

Mrs. Thiem, former deputy clerk in Medina Municipal Court was charged with embezzlement and arson after a fire destroyed the second-floor court offices last Feb. 16.

She pleaded guilty Monday to taking $720 in trust funds from the court. She is accused of setting the fire, which burned court records, so that her shortages would not be discovered by state auditors.

"My client would be the last person to want to start the fire," Himmel, a Cleveland lawyer, told the jury. "She did take the money, more than she has been charged with, but she was paying back every cent of the funds."

Himmel said Mrs. Thiem, who lives in Brunswick, would never have been charged with embezzlement had it not been for the fire.

"She would never have been caught," he told the jury. "She lost her opportunity to replace the money when the offices burned."

Fire Chief Fred Hazen testified that his report of the blaze to the state listed its origin as unknown. However, veteran firemen Thurston Berry and Adrian Rooy claimed they smelled kerosene in Mrs. Thiem's burned-out office after the fire.

The prosecution is trying to prove that Mrs. Thiem used kerosene to start the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $25,000.

Q. About six months ago I started losing my hair. My doctor gave me thyroid but this didn't help. What can I do to prevent more hair loss?
A. No information is given by the reader regarding age or sex so we must stick to a general statement. A few disease conditions can cause loss of scalp hair and some women experience temporary loss of hair following childbirth. Excluding these situations, there remains a vast number of men (and a few women) who experience what may be termed "male-type baldness." Nothing has yet been developed which will prevent or "cure" baldness of this type.

LEG BLISTERS
Q. I have water blisters on my legs. The blisters, which until last year occurred only during summer months, burst and make sores. What causes this?
A. There could be many possible causes (including sensitivity to sunlight or ultraviolet light) but surely you have sought medical advice by now. If you haven't—do so.

Q. About six months ago I started losing my hair. My doctor gave me thyroid but this didn't help. What can I do to prevent more hair loss?

A. No information is given by the reader regarding age or sex so we must stick to a general statement. A few disease conditions can cause loss of scalp hair and some women experience temporary loss of hair following childbirth. Excluding these situations, there remains a vast number of men (and a few women) who experience what may be termed "male-type baldness." Nothing has yet been developed which will prevent or "cure" baldness of this type.

LEG BLISTERS

Q. I have water blisters on my legs. The blisters, which until last year occurred only during summer months, burst and make sores. What causes this?

A. There could be many possible causes (including sensitivity to sunlight or ultraviolet light), but surely you have sought medical advice by now. If you haven't—do so.

KW Bar

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A wireless telegraph station built here 60 years ago by the distinguished American inventor, Lee De Forest, is being converted into a bar.

The station's Morse code call letters, KW, sometimes were heard by ships on the West Coast even though one or two hundred miles was considered a good transmitting distance in those days.

Scientists claim the solar system was formed about 4.5 billion years ago.

Racial Unrest Spreading Into Small Southern Towns

EDITOR'S NOTE — Desegregation efforts in the South had concentrated mostly on larger urban centers until last summer when racial unrest spread into smaller towns, the rural areas—the grassroots. Don McKee, Associated Press staff writer, visited three small Southern towns facing civil rights drives. This is the first in a series on what he found at the grassroots level.

By DON MCKEE

CLINTON, La. (AP) — Wide-brimmed, Western-style hat clamped tight on his head, the judge strode toward the ancient courthouse, a landmark of 1833 vintage.

Someone spoke to him, but Judge John R. Rarich retorted: "Hell, I'm worried about Negroes—I got no time to talk."

For Rarich and about one-third of Clinton's 1,600 population, there was reason to worry Negroes, comprising the other two-thirds of the population, had gone to the streets with their grievances for the first time.

Clinton, little more than a cluster of stores around the old courthouse, is typical of the Southern grassroots. Located in a cattle farming area of south Louisiana, it is only 25 miles south of the Mississippi line.

Change in racial customs is inconceivable to a large majority of the white minority which controls the economy and the government—as in other Southern towns.

A militant Negro group, jolting the town awake to racial issues, raised the threat of change that would leave no small town immune.

Perplexity and resentment prevail among the white residents; Negro spokesmen vow to keep up their drive, apparently triggered by a voter purge of six years ago.

The voter polls of East Feliciana Parish, of which Clinton is the governmental seat, were purged after Henry Earl Palmer became the parish registrar.

At that time there were about 1,500 Negro voters among the 4,100 persons on the parish's poll list. Palmer said that since the purge, 2,600 white persons and 119 Negroes have re-registered.

"We don't discriminate," said Palmer, who operates a dairy. "I enforce the law to the letter. I don't care if a thousand register if they pass the test."

Sheriff Arch V. Doughty said that before Palmer took office unqualified Negroes were registered.

"I doubt if some of them could even read," said Doughty.

Negro spokesmen protest that discrimination keeps them off the voter list. William Brown, 19, a college student from Tucson, Ariz., and a volunteer worker for the Congress of Racial Equality, said he believed some points in the test are administered illegally to Negroes.

Brown and other CORE workers began holding mass meetings in August to push voter registration. Rarich issued a restraining order against demonstrations.

The Negro unrest spilled into the streets Oct. 12-13 when pickets walked in front of four stores. The pickets were arrested.

"Our picketing," said Brown, "is aimed at voter registration—at some communication other than the courtroom."

But, as in similar situations the Negro drive aimed at one issue then spread over other areas of discontent. With a high unemployment rate, Negroes want better jobs; they want racial talks.

"The variety store has a Negro clerk," said Brown. "He serves the customer, then the white manager rings up the sale. Negroes aren't allowed to use the cash register."

A Negro boycott has hurt business at several stores.

A merchant, I. G. McKnight, said: "At this stage, I'm not going to be surprised at what happens."

What about the outcome?

What can the Negroes hope to gain?

There's no chance of changing our customs," said McKnight.

But Emmett Collins, Negro clerk in a drugstore and the father of the local CORE chapter leader, said most of the Negroes support the drive in Clinton.

"I don't think they'll stop," Collins said.

Debt Limit Raise Sought, Despite an Improved Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury told Congress Tuesday the budget outlook as improved by almost $3 billion. Yet it asked that the national debt limit be raised from $309 billion to $315 billion through June 30.

NOBELIST GREEK — Diplomat Giorgos Seferiades, one of the best-known Greek poets living, won the 1963 Nobel Prize for Literature. He is the first Greek to win the literature award, and is former ambassador to England.

Secretary Douglas Dillon testified before the House Ways and Means Committee that the present outlook is for a $9-billion deficit for the government year that began July 1 instead of the $11.9-billion deficit President Kennedy forecast in January.

Dillon said it now appears that tax revenues will be $1.9 billion more than was estimated in January.

Dillon faced critical questioning by Republican members about the need for a higher debt ceiling. GOP leaders, pressing a campaign against what they call the administration's extravagance, have said they may try to block any immediate increase.

But Dillon said, "I cannot contemplate any lower debt limit" than $315 billion. "The risks are simply too great," he added. The government, in most recent years, has had to borrow money to pay its bills because spending outstripped revenues.

Dillon said the debt stands today at $307.4 billion and that it will reach $308 billion by mid-November. If Congress does not act by Nov. 30, the debt limit drops automatically to $285 billion.

While figures submitted by Dillon and Budget Director Kermit Gordon showed some spending cuts by the administration, Dillon credited most of the budget improvement to action by Congress and business gains.

Williamsport Has Veteran Cage Unit

Williamsport High School will open its 1963-64 basketball season Friday night with a team that includes five veterans.

Last year the Deers finished with a 12-9 record. From that team they lost Rick Pond, a 6-foot 3-inch pivot man. He was winner of the Bob Bowsher Trophy, given annually by The Herald to the outstanding senior of Pickaway County. Terry Morris was another stalwart on the graduation list.

Returnees include Rick Fenstermaker, the leading scorer in the county last year, and Bruce Willis, a three-year letterman. Both were members of the All-County basketball team selection.

Also back are Don Cook and Nick Williams.

LARRY Beard will be Pond's replacement at the pivot post. He is a 6-foot 4-inch transfer student from Teays Valley, a Class AA high school.

Up from last year's reserve team that had a 16-4 record is Neil Coleman and Tom Hamman, both sophomores, and Adrian Harper, a junior.

Glenn Chester, coach at Williamsport, considers Willis, a 5-foot, 8-inch senior, one of the best players he has ever coached. Willis averaged 11.2 points per game last year.

Cook, 5-feet, 9-inches tall and a senior, is termed a good ball handler and defensive player, with a "burning desire to win" by his mentor. Williams, a 5-foot, 7-inch junior, averaged eight points per game last season and is counted upon to give the team outside shooting. He is a hard driver and very aggressive, Chester says.

Fenstermaker, 5-9, paced Pickaway County scorers last year with an average of 18.2 points, connecting on nearly 44 per cent of the shots he took from the field.

A senior, he has missed early practices because of illness. But he is expected to be ready to go by Friday's opener.

BEARD is a three year veteran, having played two years of varsity basketball at Jackson Twp. High School and one at Teays Valley. He averaged about ten points per game last season against Class AA competition and is expected to help the Deers considerably in the rebounding department.

Neil Coleman, a freshman, showed remarkable potential. At 6-feet, he is the second tallest man on the squad and is expected to add strength to the rebounding. He is also a fine shooter.

Also up from the reserves is Harper, 5-feet, 7 inches tall. He is an outstanding rebounder for his size. Tom Hamman, a 5-foot 8-inch sophomore listed on Chester's top eight prospects, is an outstanding floor man. He has the ability to consistently spot and feed the open man on the floor.

The Deers play a 17-game schedule this season, exclusive of their play in the holiday tournament at Jackson and post season tournament play.

They will play at the Holiday tournament at Jackson Twp. Dec. 27 and 28, along with Monroe, Jackson and Darby.

Selections Listed for Coming Tilts

NEW YORK (AP)—They still manufacture pencils with eraser at the top to forget last week's selections — 41 right, 14 wrong for 745—and recuperate with picks for the coming week. The season's figures are 226 correct with 79 misses for .741.

Here are the choice for the games ahead:

Texas over Southern Methodist: The SMU Mustangs have made great advances, especially on defense, but the Longhorns' Ford and Carlisle are more than they can handle.

Illinois over Purdue: The Purdue defense is stubborn but these Illinois sophomores are a rugged lot when they play at home.

Louisiana State over Mississippi: The revamped LSU backfield came of age in the close struggle with Florida a week ago. The Rebels have had two weeks getting ready for this one.

Air Force over Army: The Cadets have the better record but they never have encountered a passing quarterback on a level with Terry Isaacson.

Southern California over Washington: The Trojans' Four B's—Beathard, Brown, Bedsole and Bame—are functioning again although the Huskies' Junior Coffey may be the game's hero.

Navy over Notre Dame: A year ago these two teams played in a young hurricane. This season's hurricane is Roger Staubach.

Michigan State over Wisconsin: The running of Sherm Lewis and Dewey Lincoln to offset the passing of Harold Brandt.

Princeton over Brown: This is one of the best Princeton teams in recent years.

Auburn over Florida: In this game the home field is the decisive factor.

Ohio State over Iowa: The Buckeyes are stronger and more plentiful.

Syracuse over Pittsburgh: The Panthers haven't recovered from the embarrassment they suffered against Navy last week.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Could be lopsided.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Joe Namath gives the Crimson Tide an edge.

Nebraska over Missouri: The Tiger offense sputters and the Huskers have Dennis Claridge at the controls.

North Carolina State over Virginia: With relative ease.

Others: Bowling Green over Miami (Ohio). Cincinnati over Dayton. Iowa State over Oklahoma State. Kansas over Kansas State. Northwestern over Michigan. Michigan, Minnesota over Indiana. Tulsa over Southern Illinois.

Circleville Gridders Prep For Tilt at Miami Trace

The flu bug has slowed Circleville High School football practice to a certain extent this week as the Tigers prep for a South Central Ohio League Tilt at Miami Trace, Friday.

Coach Paul Starr, who reported three to four gridders had been missing each night this week, had one bright note for local grid fans.

"It looks like Duke Fyffe is going to be ready to go this week," he announced today.

Old Fashioned Game Proves Best on Paper

NEW YORK (AP)—It's almost impossible to blitz a swift single wing tailback or to red dog a halfback taking a handoff to go inside tackle. Hence the teams that sticks to old fashioned running football are doing well in the won-lost records.

That is indicated by team statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau. The first 10 teams in the rushing offense tabulation include two of the four remaining unbeaten and untied major college teams and six that have lost only once each. Of the top 10 teams in passing, all but three have lost two or more games.

The statistical decline of Navy, which keeps on winning, and the rise of Utah State highlight this week's team offense figures. Three weeks ago the Midshipmen were tops in three of four departments, last week in one and this week in none. But they're still among the first 10 in total offense, passing and scoring.

Utah State, already the scoring leader, shot to the top in total offense. The Utags lifted their points-per-game mark to 37.5 with a 40-14 victory over Pacific and at the same time shot their yards-per-game average to 394.5.

Nebraska held on as rushing leader with 287.3 yards a game to Army's 276.0.

Records Show Cards in Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie Johnson's arrival as a top flight quarterback is reflected in the team in general in talking to Football League which show the St. Louis Cardinals leading in both total offense and passing at the season's halfway mark.

The Cardinals also can move the ball on the ground with Bill Triplett and Joe Childress carrying the mail. The St. Louis rushing total of 1,016 yards is topped only by Cleveland and Green Bay.

Johnson's passes to Bobby Joe Conrad, Sonny Randle, Jackie Smith and Triplett are the big gainers in the St. Louis attack that has rolled to 2,744 yards, including 1,728 in the air.

Fyffe has been working out with the team for a little more than two weeks. This week he participated in contact work for the first time since he was injured in the Washington C. H. game.

THE BRUISING Tiger full back and linebacker suffered a severe knee injury. He was forced to sit out the Wilmington, Hillsboro and Greenfield games.

The coaching staff still has no further word on John Pharr who missed practices and the game last week because of ill effects from a head injury sustained in the Hillsboro game. The Tiger end has been given a series of tests, but the results have not been evaluated, according to Starr.

Heading the flu bug list this week were Gary Betts, Mansil Huribut and Jeff Ankrum.

Starr at present plans no major changes in the starting line up. He indicated the staff would substitute frequently again this week.

Miami Trace was hurt badly by injuries early in the season, but many of the injured personnel have returned to the active list.

THE FAYETTE County school's grid team is built around a veteran nucleus of eight seniors, according to the Tiger scouting report.

They have what Starr calls "a lot of offense," meaning they run a large variety of plays from different formations.

"They have some crazy defenses, too," Starr said, "including a 4-4 and a South Carolina six with the linebackers behind each other."

The game is another key contest in the opinion of the Tiger coaching staff. And they feel the Panthers will be at their best when they take to the field Friday night.

Last week against Hillsboro they had a "let down" and didn't look as sharp as usual, according to the Tiger scouts. But no such let down is anticipated for this Friday.

The Tigers need a win to maintain undisputed second place in the league and to stay in the race for the SCO crown.

MEANWHILE, Wilmington

ton travels to Washington C. H. in another key league contest. The Hurricane is after an undefeated season and is currently the league leader with five wins and no losses. Washington has a 3-2 loop slate.

Hillsboro, 2-3 in the league plays at Pleasant View, also 2-3. Franklin Heights, 1-4, will be seeking a second league win at the home of winless Greenfield, 0-5.

Here are the league standings:

Wilmington	5	0
Circleville	4	1
Miami Trace	3	2
Washington C. H.	3	2
Pleasant View	2	3
Hillsboro	2	3
Franklin Heights	1	4
Greenfield	0	5

Browns' Attitude Said 'Real Fine'

CLEVELAND (AP)—"The boys seemed remorseful, determined to do something about it," Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier reported of his first meeting with the players after the 33-6 whipping last Sunday by New York.

Asked about the attitude of the players, Collier said: "It was real fine."

The coach met with the squad Tuesday and they went over the movies of the Giants - Browns game. Collier said he didn't chew anybody out or even blast the team as a whole for its poor showing, which resulted in the first loss after six sparkling triumphs.

"I talked to them as I always have," said the soft-spoken coach. "There were more errors to point out, naturally, but we went over the film in the usual manner."

"I see no reason to push the panic button. I don't feel that the world's coming to an end. I'm expecting us to come back against the Eagles Sunday in Philadelphia and play a real tough football game."

Collier was asked if there would be any player changes. "I can't answer that right now," he replied, leaving open the possibility that there may be some shifts of personnel on a minor scale.

"I've said it before and I'll say it again," Collier declared. "We lost just one game Sunday. We're still leading the division."

The Browns hold a one-game lead over the Giants and Cardinals, both 5-2, who clash in St. Louis Sunday.

Collier said after spending almost 12 hours watching the pictures of the Browns - Giants game on four different occasions that it reminded him of a Cleveland loss in 1949. That was in the All-America Conference when the team took a record of 29 unbeaten games into San Francisco.

The 49ers won 56-28 and Coach Paul Brown ripped into individual players in private and the team in general in talking to newsmen. Collier was Brown's chief aide at the time.

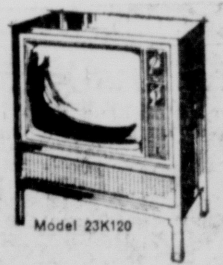

The following week, the Browns, despite being saddled with more than 100 yards in penalties, smashed Los Angeles 61-14.

Collier hopes the parallel continues in Philadelphia this week.

LONG RIVALRY—When Notre Dame and Navy meet at South Bend Saturday, November 2, for the 37th time, it will mark the longest continuous intersectional rivalry in college football. The Irish have a big edge in the series, 27 wins.

Williamsport Has Veteran Cage Unit

Williamsport High School will open its 1963-64 basketball season Friday night with a team that includes five veterans. Last year the Deers finished with a 12-9 record. From that team they lost Rick Pond, a 6-foot 3-inch pivot man. He was winner of the Bob Bowsher Trophy, given annually by The Herald to the outstanding senior of Pickaway County. Terry Morris was another stalwart on the graduation list.

Returnees include Rick Fenstermaker, the leading scorer in the county last year, and Bruce Willis, a three-year letterman. Both were members of the All-County basketball team selection. Also back are Don Cook and Nick Williams. LARRY Beard will be Pond's replacement at the pivot post. He is a 6-foot 4-inch transfer student from Teays Valley, a Class AA high school. Up from last year's reserve team that had a 16-4 record is Neil Coleman and Tom Hamman, both sophomores, and Adrian Harper, a junior. Glenn Chester, coach at Williamsport, considers Willis, a 5-foot, 8-inch senior, one of the best players he has ever coached. Willis averaged 11.2 points per game last year. Cook, 5-feet, 9-inches tall and a senior, is termed a good ball handler and defensive player, with a "burning desire to win" by his mentor. Williams, a 5-foot, 7-inch junior, averaged eight points per game last season and is counted upon to give the team outside shooting. He is a hard driver and very aggressive, Chester says. Fenstermaker, 5-9, paced Pickaway County scorers last year with an average of 18.2 points, connecting on nearly 44 per cent of the shots he took from the field. A senior, he has missed early practices because of illness. But he is expected to be ready to go by Friday's opener. BEARD is a three year veteran, having played two years of varsity basketball at Jackson Twp. High School and one at Teays Valley. He averaged about ten points per game last season against Class AA competition and is expected to help the Deers considerably in the rebounding department. Neil Coleman, a freshman, showed remarkable potential at 6-feet, he is the second tallest man on the squad and is expected to add strength to the rebounding. He is also a fine shooter. Also up from the reserves is Harper, 5-feet, 7 inches tall. He is an outstanding rebounder for his size. Tom Hamman, a 5-foot 8-inch sophomore listed on Chester's top eight prospects, is an outstanding floor man. He has the ability to consistently spot and feed the open man on the floor. The Deers play a 17-game schedule this season, exclusive of their play in the holiday tournament at Jackson and post season tournament play. They will play at the Holiday tournament at Jackson Twp. Dec. 27 and 28, along with Monroe, Jackson and Darby.

Selections Listed for Coming Tilts

NEW YORK (AP)—They still manufacture pencils with craser at the top to forget last week's selections — 41 right, 14 wrong for 745—and recuperate with picks for the coming week. The season's figures are 226 correct with 79 misses for .741.

Here are the choice for the games ahead: Texas over Southern Methodist: The SMU Mustangs have made great advances, especially on defense, but the Longhorns' Ford and Carlisle are more than they can handle.

Illinois over Purdue: The Purdue defense is stubborn but these Illinois sophomores are a rugged lot when they play at home. Louisiana State over Mississippi: The revamped LSU backfield came of age in the close struggle with Florida a week ago. The Rebels have had two weeks getting ready for this one.

Air Force over Army: The Cadets have the better record but they never have encountered a passing quarterback on a level with Terry Isaacson.

Southern California over Washington: The Trojans' Four B's—Beathard, Brown, Bedsole and Bame—are functioning again although the Huskies' Junior Coffey may be the game's hero.

Navy over Notre Dame: A year ago these two teams played in a young hurricane. This season's hurricane is Roger Staubach.

Michigan State over Wisconsin: The running of Sherman Lewis and Dewey Lincoln to offset the passing of Harold Brandt.

Princeton over Brown: This is one of the best Princeton teams in recent years.

Auburn over Florida: In this game the home field is the decisive factor.

Ohio State over Iowa: The Buckeyes are stronger and more plentiful.

Syracuse over Pittsburgh: The Panthers haven't recovered from the embarrassment they suffered against Navy last week.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Could be lopsided.

Alabama over Mississippi State: Joe Namath gives the Crimson Tide an edge.

Nebraska over Missouri: The Tiger offense sputters and the Huskers have Dennis Clardige at the controls.

North Carolina State over Virginia: With relative ease.

Others: Bowling Green over Miami (Ohio). Cincinnati over Dayton. Iowa State over Oklahoma State. Kansas over Kansas State. Northwestern over Michigan. Michigan, Minnesota over Indiana. Tulsa over Southern Illinois.

Johnson's passes to Bobby Joe Conrad, Sonny Randle, Jackie Smith and Triplett are the big gainers in the St. Louis attack that has rolled to 2,744 yards, including 1,728 in the air.

Circleville Gridders Prep For Tilt at Miami Trace

The flu bug has slowed Circleville High School football practice to a certain extent this week as the Tigers prep for a South Central Ohio League tilt at Miami Trace. Friday.

Coch Paul Starr, who reported three to four gridirers had been missing each night this week, had one bright note for local grid fans.

"It looks like Duke Fyffe is going to be ready to go this week," he announced today.

Old Fashioned Game Proves Best on Paper

NEW YORK (AP)—It's almost impossible to blitz a swift single wing tailback or to red dog a halfback taking a handoff to go inside tackle. Hence the teams that sticks to old fashioned drumming football are doing well in the won-lost records.

That is indicated by team statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau. The first 10 teams in the rushing offense tabulation include two of the four remaining unbeaten and untied major college teams and six that have lost only once each. Of the top 10 teams in passing, all but three have lost two or more games.

The statistical decline of Navy, which keeps on winning, and the rise of Utah State highlight this week's team offense figures. Three weeks ago the Midshipmen were tops in three of four departments, last week in one and this week in none. But they're still among the first 10 in total offense, passing and scoring.

Utah State, already the scoring leader, shot to the top in total offense. The Utags lifted their points-per-game mark to 37.5 with a 40-14 victory over Pacific and at the same time shot their yards-per-game average to 394.5.

Nebraska held on as rushing leader with 287.3 yards a game to Army's 276.0.

Records Show Cards in Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie Johnson's arrival as a top flight quarterback is reflected in the team in general in talking to Football League which show the St. Louis Cardinals leading in both total offense and passing at the season's halfway mark. The Cardinals also can move the ball on the ground with Bill Triplett and Joe Childress carrying the mail. The St. Louis rushing total of 1,016 yards is topped only by Cleveland and Green Bay.

Johnson's passes to Bobby Joe Conrad, Sonny Randle, Jackie Smith and Triplett are the big gainers in the St. Louis attack that has rolled to 2,744 yards, including 1,728 in the air.

Fyffe has been working out with the team for a little more than two weeks. This week he participated in contact work for the first time since he was injured in the Washington C. H. game.

THE BRUISING Tiger fullback and linebacker suffered a severe knee injury. He was forced to sit out the Wilmington, Hillsboro and Greenfield games.

The coaching staff still has no further word on John Pharr who missed practices and the game last week because of ill effects from a head injury sustained in the Hillsboro game.

The Tiger end has been given a series of tests, but the results have not been evaluated, according to Starr.

Heading the flu bug list this week were Gary Belts, Mansil Horibut and Jeff Ankrom.

Starr at present plans no major changes in the starting line up. He indicated the staff would substitute frequently again this week.

Miami Trace was hurt badly by injuries early in the season, but many of the injured personnel have returned to the active list.

THE FAYETTE County school's grid team is built around a veteran nucleus of eight seniors, according to the Tiger scouting report.

They have what Starr calls "a lot of offense," meaning they run a large variety of plays from different formations.

"They have some crazy defenses, too," Starr said, "including a 4-4 and a South Carolina six with the linebackers behind each other."

The game is another key contest in the opinion of the Tiger coaching staff. And they feel the Panthers will be at their best when they take to the field Friday night.

Last week against Hillsboro they had a "let down" and didn't look as sharp as usual, according to the Tiger scouts. But no such let down is anticipated for this Friday.

The Tigers need a win to maintain undisputed second place in the league and to stay in the race for the SCO crown. MEANWHILE, Wilmington travels to Washington C. H. in another key league contest. The Hurricane is after an undefeated season and is currently the league leader with five wins and no losses. Washington has a 3-2 loop slate.

Hillsboro, 2-3 in the league plays at Pleasant View, also 2-3. Franklin Heights, 1-4, will be seeking a second league win at the home of winless Greenfield, 0-5.

Here are the league standings:

Wilmington	5	0
Circleville	4	1
Miami Trace	3	2
Washington C. H.	3	2
Pleasant View	2	3
Hillsboro	2	3
Franklin Heights	1	4
Greenfield	2	5

Browns' Attitude Said 'Real Fine'

CLEVELAND (AP) — "The boys seemed remorseful, determined to do something about it," Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier reported of his first meeting with the players after the 33-6 whipping last Sunday by New York.

Asked about the attitude of the players, Collier said: "It was real fine."

The coach met with the squad Tuesday and they went over the movies of the Giants - Browns game. Collier said he didn't chew anybody out or even blast the team as a whole for its poor showing, which resulted in the first loss after six sparkling triumphs.

"I talked to them as I always have," said the soft-spoken coach. "There were more errors to point out, naturally, but we went over the film in the usual manner."

"I see no reason to push the panic button. I don't feel that the world's coming to an end. I'm expecting us to come back against the Eagles Sunday in Philadelphia and play a real tough football game."

Collier was asked if there would be any player changes. "I can't answer that right now," he replied, leaving open the possibility that there may be some shifts of personnel on a minor scale.

"I've said it before and I'll say it again," Collier declared. "We lost just one game Sunday. We're still leading the division."

The Browns hold a one-game lead over the Giants and Cardinals, both 5-2, who clash in St. Louis Sunday.

Collier said after spending almost 12 hours watching the pictures of the Browns - Giants game on four different occasions that it reminded him of a Cleveland loss in 1949. That was in the first loss after six sparkling triumphs.

The 49ers won 56-28 and Coach Paul Brown ripped into individual players in private and the team in general in talking to newsmen. Collier was Brown's chief aide at the time.

The following week, the Browns, despite being saddled with more than 100 yards in penalties, smashed Los Angeles 61-14.

Collier hopes the parallel continues in Philadelphia this week.

Duke Tackle Is AP Lineman Of the Week

NEW YORK (AP)—It couldn't have been anything so mundane as "All right, boys. Let's go get 'em." But whatever Bert Wilder said before the opening kickoff and between halves of the Duke game at Raleigh last Saturday helped the North Carolina State tackle win today the designation as Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press.

The 24-year-old senior from Greensboro, N.C. backed up his words by leading a savage Wolfpack defense that handed the Blue Devils their first defeat of the season, 21-7.

"Give Bert a lot of credit for this one," said Earle Edwards, the N.C. State coach. He was tough to move around and put a potfull of pressure on Glacken (Scotty Glacken the Duke quarterback) and made him hurry his throws.

"His play led us on the field, but it was his two speeches before the game and at halftime that really fired up the boys. I never saw Bert so determined to win a football game."

Wilder talks fired the Wolfpack so that they held Duke to 76 yards rushing. Wilder, in addition to his rushing of Glacken, made numerous tackles, including one that stopped a Duke threat on the Wolfpack 11. It was State's first victory over Duke in 17 seasons.

Ends Bill Truax of Louisiana State, and Jim Campbell, of Navy, were strong contenders in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Truax, termed a "Gargantua at the goal line" by Wayne Thomas of the Atlanta Journal, had a great day at LSU upset Florida 14-0 at Gainesville, Fla. Campbell was outstanding in Navy's 24-12 victory over Pitt at Annapolis. He caught seven passes from Roger Staubach for 92 yards, including four straight for 59 yards in Navy's 80-yard touchdown march in the second period that sent the Panthers tumbling from the unbeaten ranks.

In 1926 Babe Ruth became the first player to score four runs in one World Series game.

Duke Tackle Is AP Lineman Of the Week

NEW YORK (AP)—It couldn't have been anything so mundane as "AP right, boys. Let's go get 'em." But whatever Bert Wilder said before the opening kickoff and between halves of the Duke game at Raleigh last Saturday helped the North Carolina State tackle win today the designation as Lineman of The Week by The Associated Press.

The 24-year-old senior from Greensboro, N.C. backed up his words by leading a savage Wolfpack defense that handed the Blue Devils their first defeat of the season, 21-7.

"Give Bert a lot of credit for this one," said Earle Edwards, the N.C. State coach. He was tough to move around and put a potfull of pressure on Glacken (Scotty Glacken the Duke quarterback) and made him hurry his throws.

"His play led us on the field, but it was his two speeches before the game and at halftime that really fired up the boys. I never saw Bert so determined to win a football game."

Wilder talks fired the Wolfpack so that they held Duke to 76 yards rushing. Wilder, in addition to his rushing of Glacken, made numerous tackles, including one that stopped a Duke threat on the Wolfpack 11. It was State's first victory over Duke in 17 seasons.

Ends Bill Truax of Louisiana State, and Jim Campbell, of Navy, were strong contenders in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Truax, termed a "Gargantua at the goal line" by Wayne Thomas of the Atlanta Journal, had a great day as LSU upset Florida 14-0 at Gainesville, Fla. Campbell was outstanding in Navy's 24-12 victory over Pitt at Annapolis. He caught seven passes from Roger Staubach for 92 yards, including four straight for 59 yards in Navy's 80-yard touchdown march in the second period that sent the Panthers tumbling from the unbeaten ranks.

In 1926 Babe Ruth became the first player to score four runs in one World Series game.

Chamber Head Cites Ohio's Expanded Economy Need

Economic expansion in Ohio, reduction in taxes and spending on a national level and the importance of the state's Bond Issue No. 1 were key points in an address here last night by Barton A. Holl, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Holl, a Logan, O., native, was guest speaker at the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce "Meet the President Dinner." Approximately 120 area residents gathered at the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building for the session.

A pre-program dinner was prepared and served by the Salt Creek Valley Grange. Miss Sally Hines, a senior at Jackson Twp. High School, presented several organ selections prior to and during the meal.

Holl, a prominent Ohio industrial figure, selected the theme "Mind Your Own Business" for his talk. He placed heavy emphasis on Ohio's economic outlook and discussed the state's chances for an expanding economy.

THE OHIO Chamber top executive closely connected this economic outlook with Bond Issue No. 1 which will go before Ohio voters on Tuesday. He explained that the proposed $250 million issue for education and capital improvements does not call for a new tax, but continues a cent-a-pack cigarette tax already in effect.

He said the money it would provide will go a long way in helping Ohio meet its educational needs and establish vital scientific breakthroughs. These factors, he noted, are important elements if the state is to enjoy economic expansion.

Holl commended the state's Department of Development and its effort to induce new industry to locate in Ohio. He also commended the Circleville Area Chamber for its concentration on bringing new industries to the community and the expansion of existing ones. He termed industrial payrolls as the life of a community.

The speaker pointed out that the Ohio Chamber of Commerce has long followed a policy that calls for tax reduction on both corporate and individual incomes, accompanied by a reduction in spending. The reduced spending approach has drawn sharp focus in Washington.

In the final analysis, the tax stand responsibility will fall on the voters, Holl said. In view of this position, he urged citizens to meet the responsibility by conveying their thoughts to their senators or representatives concerning taxation and government spending.

He urged strengthened membership on the local chamber level. He advised the citizenry to be vocal, keep informed of public issues and make wants known.

HOLL was introduced by Dan Crabtree, program chairman. David Yates, Circleville Chamber president, presented the organization's directors and announced the panel of new directors recently elected. The new officials are Jack Clifton, Forrest Thomerson, Dr. Richard Samuel, Jury Gornon, Charles Boggs, Donald College and Charles Wellman.

President Yates also commented on the five issues coming before city and county voters on Tuesday. He urged support for the city school bond issue, the one-mill operating levy for the City of Circleville, the revision of a current levy to provide 10 hundredths of one mill for the care of county tuberculosis patients and five hundredths of one mill to operate the Pickaway County Tuberculosis Clinic and State Bond Issue No. 1.

No Tax Increase

Countywide Vote Due on TB Levies

Only two countywide tax measures, both representing a division of a current levy, will face Pickaway voters on Tuesday.

The measures do not call for an increase in taxes, but for the revision of a levy that already exists. The proposed division was approved by the county board of commissioners on Aug. 5.

One levy would provide funds for maintenance and operation of the Pickaway County Tuberculosis Clinic. The other would provide for the care and treatment of Pickaway County residents who are TB patients in hospitals under contract with the county.

Passage of the two measures would further divide a 25-hundredths mill levy which provides care for county TB patients. First division of the levy was accomplished last November when voters passed a 10-hundredths of one mill levy for operation of a Pickaway County School for Retarded Children. A levy on the same ballot asking for five hundredths of one mill for the TB Clinic was defeated.

Local Welfare Executives Attend Meet

The heads of three local public welfare divisions attended a district meeting in Newark today.

They were Mrs. Zelma Maynard, child welfare executive secretary; Pauline E. Roese, welfare director; Mrs. Waneta Norman, manager of the aid for the aged.

The meeting was called by Robert P. Stith, state deputy director, to explain the new district organization of the state welfare department and the duties of the personnel attached to each district.

Rate Reductions For This Area Due To Terminate

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. today notified officials of Circleville and several neighboring communities that portions of rate reductions, in effect since last Dec. 1 will terminate this Dec. 1.

The reductions were brought about by refunds received by the company from gas suppliers. Two cents per 1,000 cubic feet will be restored to rates in Circleville and South Bloomfield, and 2½ cents per 1,000 cubic feet in Ashville.

Public announcement of the expected rate changes was made last July 30.

"Refunds received by Ohio Fuel from gas suppliers, on orders of the Federal Power Commission, are passed back to customers through the operation of the fuel cost provisions of the cities' rate ordinances," said Walter D. Betsch, Columbus, vice president in charge of rates.

"When a refund has been completely passed back to customers, the rate returns to the level it would have been without the refund," he said.

Price Boosts Not Seen as Budget Worry

WASHINGTON (AP)—House wives, relax—for the time being anyway.

The government's economists see no danger that the autumn outbreak of price boosts in a dozen industries will unbalance the family budget.

Increases on items ranging from steel and aluminum to carpets and black pepper—was followed — perhaps by coincidence—by revival of a New York federal grand jury probe into steel-pricing policies.

Coincidental or not, that Justice Department move under scored President Kennedy's warning that Uncle Sam is "watching with concern" any price trend that might start an inflationary spiral.

Kennedy's Consumer Advisory Council, set up last year to give consumers a lobby in Washington, announced a special study of recent increases in steel, electrical equipment, aluminum and chemicals.

The council said it wants to find out whether the increases "appear to be justified from the consumer point of view."

Arnold E. Chase, price chief for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, told an interviewer: "The wholesale price index for October may show a decline instead of an increase."

The increases on several steel products, even if passed all along the line to consumers, will be like those of last spring Chase predicted: a few dollars on a car or tractor, a few dimes on a washer or refrigerator, but no measurable impact on the over-all cost of living.

Young Burglars Armed with Guns

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Two 8-year-old boys found sleeping in a service station rest room — each armed with a pistol—are described by sheriff's deputies as possibly the youngest burglars in Montgomery County's history.

The youngsters, runaways from a local juvenile detention center, are accused of taking $600 in cash, some household silver and three pistols Monday night from the home of James Buchanan. Officers said a bartender took one of the guns from the youngsters but he was unable to apprehend them.

Deputies said the boys were asleep when found in the rest-room later Tuesday afternoon. The boys were quoted as saying they threw the silver and cash away but could not say where. Those items were being sought.

Police returned the boys to Shawn Acres, the center from which they escaped Monday.

Three Vacancies On City Board

Four candidates are seeking seats on the Circleville Board of Election in Tuesday's general election.

Circleville School District voters will elect three of the four persons in the race for the non partisan offices.

Terms expiring are those of Robert S. Elsea, N. Court St. Edward G. Grigg, 905 Atwater Ave.; and Robert L. Brehmer Jr., 895 Atwater Ave.

All three are seeking another term on the school board.

William A. Stout, 650 Garden Parkway, is the fourth candidate and a newcomer. He is a Circleville native and he and his wife, Judy, have three sons.

through almost every Little Hoover Commission report so far—gets added emphasis in recommendations made public today.

Ohio's Public Works Department is the subject of this latest report from the 88 businessmen who agreed to make the economy-efficiency study of state government for Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Public works dates back to the early years of the last century, when the legislature created a public authority to administer Ohio's 813-mile network of canals.

It still is responsible for what is left of that network, but now it coordinates use of state buildings, takes contractors' bids for most state projects except highways, and supervises construction for other state agencies.

"Long-range plans and capital needs for housing state employees are now prepared by Public Works," says the Little Hoover group dryly, "then consolidated by the capital planning section of the Department of Finance, then ignored."

As a result the commission contends, the original planners in Public Works begin to wonder if detailed plans are worth the effort.

They are, this report argues, and a "thorough, long-range study should be made to determine the type of buildings that should be constructed to provide adequate state office facilities."

The commission makes a rough estimate that as much as $440,000 a year could be saved by the state's owning, rather than leasing, working space.

Other suggestions call for only one attorney-examiner to be assigned to the department instead of two, a clerical-stenographic pool, faster disposal of the remaining canal lands, abandoning 28 miles of canal land between St. Marys and Delphos, renegotiating water rental arrangements with industry at Akron and St. Marys, periodically surveying state office space use, encouraging a uniform level of preventive building maintenance and changing six State Office Building elevators in Columbus from manual to pushbutton operation.
